From the Vice Chancellor's Desk

National Academy of Legal Studies and Research (NALSAR), Hyderabad is the premier legal institution of the country. Ever since its establishment, it has demonstrated to be the most preferred destination of the young buds of the legal arena, and played a magnificent role in providing legal manpower and expertise. On behalf of this premier institution, it is my pleasure to invite you for conducting selection programmes for our LL.M students.

The immense meadow of law requires a continuous legal training and proficiency. LL.M. aids in understanding the ins and outs of the specified category of law in much better way and sets the particular student at advanced pedestal of understanding. Our LL.M course is well recognised within and outside India and gives students' expertise in their respective fields of specialization. This course is specifically designed to help our students to acquire advanced, specialised legal training equipping them to work in a multinational legal environment.

I wish the students of this batch splendid success in their endeavours and I am confident that they will make noteworthy contributions to the legal world.

Welcome to NALSAR University of Law.

Prof. (Dr.) Faizan Mustafa
Vice- Chancellor,
NALSAR University of Law, Hyderabad

Message From the Registrar's Desk

At NALSAR, our endeavour is to create a pool of talented professionals who have the knowledge, ability and above all, the right attitude and resilience to excel at the national as well as the global level.

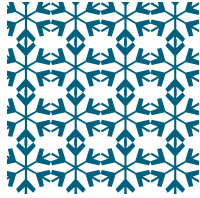

I am pleased to introduce the LL.M batch of 2011-2013 for recruitments. The students of this batch are a perfect blend of professionalism and perseverance.

At NALSAR Hyderabad, the LL.M programmes in Corporate Law & Governance; and Intellectual Property Rights provide students with both a theoretical and practical thrust to develop a holistic perspective of socio-legal reality. The programme introduces them to the various stages and levels of expertise involved in the formation and implementation of legal policies. Their training in the two year programme includes a rigorous course work, internships, seminar presentation and dissertation work. I am confident that with the training they receive at NALSAR Hyderabad, they develop the competence to excel in the legal field.

We look forward to having your esteemed organisation on campus for our placements and are certain that it would be a mutually beneficial experience.

Prof. K.V.S. Sarma

Professor of Law and Registrar
(Head, Centre for Corporate Law & Governance)

With every passing year the NALSAR post graduation has been gaining in strength and reputation. From very modest beginnings, the school has started attracting the best talent from different parts of the country.

After a foundational grounding on critical areas of law in the first semester, the students pursue seven papers in their field of specialization which is rounded off with a dissertation in the area. Due to this intensive instruction these students would be valuable assets of any organization they would join. I warmly recommend them to you and wish them every success in the pursuit of their careers.

Prof. (Dr.) Amita Dhanda,
Dean(Academic),
Head, Centre for Disability rights

NALSAR has maintained a new outlook in the way the courses in LL.M are designed. The University offers strong and comprehensive post graduate degree courses in Corporate Law & Governance, Intellectual Property Rights, International Trade & Business Laws and Jurisprudence.

It is our great privilege to invite you to visit our University for Campus Placement of our PG students.

I look forward to your visit for Campus Recruitment at our University.

Prof (Dr.) V. Balakista Reddy,
Convener, P G Committee
Professor of International Law and Head, Centre for Air &
Space Law & Co-ordinator M.K. Nambyar SAARCLaw Centre

IP is today regarded as an important and effective policy instrument relevant to a wide range of socioeconomic, technological and political concerns. The development of skills and competence to manage IPR and leverage its influence requires increasing focus.

The NC Banerjee Centre for Intellectual Property Laws since its inception has contributed to the research and advocacy of IP Jurisprudence and paved the way for starting the LL.M programme in Intellectual Property Laws.

The curriculum also segments the IP laws in terms of its application with Information Technology, Biotechnology, Pharma Industry and SMEs. The dissertation component shapes the analytical and research ability of the students. The students are evaluated for the communication and pedagogy by lectures to the juniors. In recognition of the IP related inputs the Ministry of the Human Resources of Government of India set up the IP chair for research and advocacy at NALSAR University. The Post Graduates of IP law specialization have a strong foundation on the various interfaces of IP law, its impact on public policy, the litigation strategies, the IP management principles, IP evaluation and related contractual issues. NALSAR IP programmes are rated as professional programmes by the law firms and the Industry. The LL.M IP Law programme also brings IP experts as visiting faculties to give insight on the best practices of IP laws. In short the Post Graduates of IP Law have the ability to perform as professionals from the start of the career due to the foundations and practical inputs.

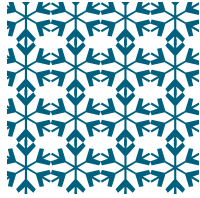

Dr. V.C. Vivekanandan

MHRD IP Chair Professor

Head-NCB Centre for IP Laws

Director- Global Internet Governance & Advocacy (GIGA)

Director- Legal Information Institute of India (www.liiofindia.org)

Law demands a great deal of dedication from its disciples. It is said an Advocate is Student all his life. We at NALSAR firmly believe and abide by this dictum. To claim expertise in any field requires huge amount of hard work coupled with determination and open mind to learn new things.

Devising course curriculum for Masters in Law has been a challenging task. The course structure for Corporate Law is devised so as to keep students abreast about the latest developments in the Corporate world yet equip them with the necessary skills so as to meet the ever changing market needs.

I have always believed that law is not so much carved in stone as it is written in water, flowing in and out with the tide. I have full confidence that the present batch has imbibed these very qualities that set them apart from the other students whether they are their contemporaries or seniors. I am extremely delighted to hear that My Students are sitting for placements. I earnestly wish them all the very best for their career and life.

I extend a warm welcome to you to the Justice City.

Dr. K. Vidyullatha Reddy
Centre Head, Environmental Law

Batch of 2013

The current batch of 2013 comprises of the quintessential crème de la crème, courtesy an entrance examination that abhors mediocrity & has, since its inception, embracing the best legal minds of the country. Hailing from different backgrounds throughout the length & breadth of the country, the batch is a healthy mix of exuberance, wisdom & serenity. The desire to prove their mettle is quite palpable among the students, which is praiseworthy. The ingenuity is a hallmark of the batch which makes it 'a cut above the rest'. The 'fraternity' feel is deeply entrenched in every student, which makes the batch ride over rough times with consummate ease. Each & every student is receptive to the vast pool of knowledge that is proffered by nalsar, viewed as a 'magnum opus' in the legal annals of India.

With a plethora of internships from prestigious law firms, paper presentations in numerous seminars & article publications in venerated journals in their kitty, the students have what it takes to be the numero-uno in their respective fields. The dedication they harbour is indefatigable, with the discerning mind an icing on the cake.

With students who can effortlessly metamorphose into valuable assets in their professional lives, nalsar awaits your arrival.

Nalsar Experience

The raison d'être of an educational institution is not solely confined to churning out blasé professionals, but imparting them with skills that are conducive to one's holistic development. NALSAR, armed with a formidable repute has for long been one of the premier institutes in shaping the legal acumen of students. It has earned its rightful place in the revered legal pantheon, thereby facilitating the smooth flow of legal education.

Embellished with a sprawling campus at the outskirts of Hyderabad city, NALSAR is endowed with a dedicated faculty that leaves no stone unturned to hone the skills of its students. The mode of teaching here is student-driven rather than rote learning as a student is prodded to ask even the most obvious of queries that may beset his mind, which in turn fosters an interaction so strong that the class-room session is not viewed as mere didactic, but one which revitalizes the mind.

Hailed as an avant-garde in legal education, NALSAR continues to bask in the glory that is bestowed upon its alumni. The progenies have carved out a niche for themselves in this feral competitive world, & that too with aplomb for which admiration emanates from all contemporaries. Their alma-mater has rightly imbued them with a relentless drive to achieve perfection in whatever they strive for, which eventually makes the impossible, inevitable.

Thus, NALSAR, as a centre of excellence, leaves a trail that is enviable, but nevertheless worth emulating; where being a virtuoso is a norm, & not an aberration.

LL.M. Recruitment Coordination Committee (LRCC) follows a two step process for recruitment. The first step is Pre-Placement Talk (PPT) which facilitates interaction between the students and the potential Recruiters. The second step is final interview. Hence, the LRCC keeps the invitation open for the Recruiters.

Recruitment Offer and Acceptance

The Recruiters who are interested in conducting Pre- Placement Talks shall coordinate with LRCC and fix dates for the same. The candidate(s) selected in the Pre-Interview Screening shall qualify for appearing in the Final Interviews. After the completion of recruitment, registration and/or Pre- Interview Screening, LRCC shall disclose a FINAL INTERVIEW LIST received from every registered Recruiter, according to the Recruiters' recruitment policy. The Recruiters may also furnish a list of wait-listed candidates for subsequent recruitment process and final selection of candidates.

Communication

The LRCC is only the authorized body to formally approach and communicate with the Recruiters in relation to the Campus recruitment. The decision of LRCC regarding selection of the candidates at any stage of the recruitment process shall be final. The Recruiters are requested not to encourage any personal communication made by candidates whose Applications, they have received through the LRCC.

“In dreams begin responsibilities.”

Affectionately called PlaceCom, we at Recruitment Committee are working continuously basing on the feedback provided by our alma mater and the University Administration in honing the skills of the batch. At PlaceCom our effort is to provide a platform where the placement process is ensured with no hiccups so as to make it a fruitful and mutual beneficial exercise for students and recruiters.
