* Includes disputed tax liability aggregating to Rs. 132.20 Crores

 In the case of issue of guarantees, such non fund based –credit limits are assessed as per the norms prescribed for assessment of fund based limits. Such credit limits are sanctioned against the security of deposits/other securities and also duly obtaining the counter guarantee from the borrower. Generally the period of guarantee is restricted to a maximum period of ten years.

In the event that any or all of the above contingent liabilities materialize, they may have a material and adverse affect on the Bank’s financial performance.

Management Perception

The contingent liabilities have arisen in the normal course of business of the Bank and are subject to the prudential norms as prescribed by the RBI. Items indicated against contingent liabilities given in points 2, 3, 4 & 5 in the table above are secured by Bank through by collateral security.

7. If the bank is not able to maintain or reduce the level of non-performing assets, its business and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Our Bank has achieved reduction in net NPA from 4.98% of net advances in FY 2005 to 1.89% in FY2006, 1.58% in FY2007, 1.54% in FY2008 and 1.24% of net advances in FY 2009. However, our ability to continue to reduce or contain the level of our gross and net NPAs may be affected by a number of factors that are beyond our control, such as a recession in the economy, including in respect of specific industries to which we are exposed, decreases in agricultural production, decline in commodity and food grain prices, adverse fluctuations in interest and exchange rates or adverse changes in Government policies, laws or regulations. In addition, the expansion of our business may also cause the level of our NPAs to increase. Although our loan portfolio contains loans to a wide variety of businesses, adverse market conditions in these industries could increase our level of NPAs. Future increases in our NPAs may have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition. The comparative table for NPAs over the last five years is as below

As on March 31	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009
Gross Advances	2379.13	3013.75	3679.17	3931.09	5319.78
Gross NPAs	187.44	124.76	131.18	137.98	144.05
Gross NPAs to Gross Advances (%)	7.88%	4.14%	3.57%	3.51%	2.71%
Net Advances	2306.73	2944.58	3604.94	3852.63	5240.58
Net NPAs	115.05	55.60	56.94	59.52	64.85
Net NPA to Net Advances (%)	4.98%	1.89%	1.58%	1.54%	1.24%

For further details, refer to the Asset Classification section in the chapter titled “Our Business” on page number 83 of this Letter of Offer.

Management Perception

The net NPAs of the Bank have come down from 1.55% in 31st March 2008 to 1.24% as on 31st March 2009. Further the Bank is closely monitoring the NPAs and it has put in effective mechanism. For NPA Management Strategy of the Bank please refer to the section titled “Our Business” on page number 84 of this Letter of Offer.

8. The Bank’s contingent liability on account of outstanding Forward Exchange Contracts

The Bank enters into forward exchange contracts, currency contracts options, forward rate agreements, currency swaps and interest rate swaps with inter-bank participants on its own account and for customers. Forward exchange contracts are commitments to buy or sell foreign currency at a future date at the contracted rate. Currency swaps are commitments to exchange cash flows by way of interest/principal in one currency against another, based on predetermined rates. Interest rate swaps are commitments to exchange fixed and floating interest rate cash flows. The notional amounts that are recorded as contingent liabilities, are typically amounts used as a benchmark for the calculation of the interest component of the contracts. The amount that were recorded as contingent liability in respect of forward contracts were at the rate at which the contracts were concluded and shall form bench mark for the calculation of exchange difference, if, any to be paid or received in the event of cancellation. For further details on the above please refer to the section on “Financial Statements” beginning on Page 138 of the Offer document.

Management Perception

Shares pledged by the promoters are less than 1% of the paid up capital of the bank. The promoters do not have any control over the affairs of the bank and hence the shares pledged by them do not have any implication on the operations of the bank

- 11. Our branches are mainly concentrated in the states of Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh and our banks business is mainly concentrated in the states of Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra. Such regional concentration could have an impact on our operations and financials.

Our Bank's business has a regional concentration in the state of Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra. These two states alone account for around 71.6% of deposits and around 66.4% of gross advances as on March 31, 2009. Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh account for 78.5% of the total branch network of the Bank. If the credit or deposit business in these regions slows down significantly and the Bank's assets and liabilities in other regions do not correspondingly increase, its operations and financials could be affected.

Management Perception

The regional presence of the Bank may not be a hindrance to its growth prospects. The Bank has improved its branch network and business from the northern region over the years and plans to expand its branch network further.

- 12. Our Inability to improve the share of CASA deposits may result in cost of deposits and thereby affect the profitability of our bank in future.

Our Bank as on March 31, 2009 had total deposits of Rs. 7360.9 crores. Share of CASA deposits amounted to 16.8% of total deposits in FY 2009 vis-à-vis 21.7% in FY 2008. The increased dependence on term deposits has led to increase in cost of deposits to 7.96% in FY 2009 from 7.31% in FY 2008. Inability to improve the share of CASA deposits may affect the profitability of our Bank.

Management Perception

Bank is implementing various strategies to improve CASA steadily.

- 13. We are significantly dependent on our bulk depositors and this Customer concentration in deposits may affect our Bank's liquidity position

Our Bank as on March 31, 2009 had total deposits of Rs. 7360.9 crores. The top 15 depositors accounted for 20.10% of our total deposits, indicating high dependence on Bulk deposits. Failure to retain these customers or roll over their deposits may affect our Bank's liquidity position and ability to fund its growth.

Management Perception

The majority of the depositors are institutions who are our customers for a long time. The Bank does not foresee any business risk on this front.

14. Our Bank is exposed to high concentrations of loans to a few borrowers and default by any one of them may adversely affect our Bank's business.

As of March 31, 2009, aggregate loans to our Bank's ten largest borrowers amounted to Rs. 502.41 Crores which (representing approximately 98.98% of our Bank's aggregate Tier I and Tier II capital). Our Bank's single largest borrower on March 31, 2009 had an outstanding balance of Rs.88.04 Crores, representing 17.34% of our Bank's aggregate Tier I and Tier II capital as on March 31, 2009. Any deterioration in the credit quality of these assets may have a significant adverse effect on our Bank's financial condition and results of operations.

Management Perception

The loans made by the bank to these borrowers are within the prescribed ceilings of advances permissible to the industry. The exposures are monitored on a regular basis.

15. We may be exposed to Credit Risk in relation to lending, trading, hedging, settlement and other financial transactions

Some or all of the Bank's customers or counterparts may be unable or unwilling to meet their respective contractual commitments in relation to lending, trading, hedging, settlement and other financial transactions. This may materially and adversely affect the Bank's operations and may require the Bank to engage in protracted litigation and recovery proceedings which may not adequately compensate the Bank for losses suffered by it.

Management Perception

The Bank has put in place a credit rating system under which the borrowal accounts between Rs.10 lacs and Rs.25 lacs and sophisticated Credit Risk Assessment system for limits of Rs.25 lacs and above are rated on several parameters. The system takes the migration of assets over four heat zones which enable the Bank to take corrective steps to arrest sudden deterioration. The Bank also has implemented an active Risk Management policy aimed at mitigating various credit related risks. For other details on the credit risk management process in the Bank, the shareholders may refer to the para on 'Risk Management System' in the section "Our Business" on page number 92 of this Letter of Offer.

16. The Bank has concentrations of loans to certain customers and to certain groups of customers, and credit losses from these customers or groups could adversely affect the business and financial condition.

The top 5 industries account for 57% of the gross credit exposure of the Bank as on March 31, 2009. Similarly, the top ten corporate borrowers account for about 8% of the gross advances of Our Bank as on March 31, 2009. The borrower-specific and industry-specific behaviour may potentially affect the overall asset quality of the Bank.

Management Perception

The Bank has put in place a credit monitoring mechanism to monitor the performance of its borrowers, regularly perform appraisal and do the requisite follow up. As regards the industry concentration, it's been the policy of the Bank to diversify its lending over different industries/promoters. Investors are advised to refer para 'Industry-wise Outstanding' in the Section "Our Business" on page number 79 of Letter of Offer.

17. Interest of Directors

The Bank has advanced loans to the relatives/associates of the Promoters/Directors, the outstanding amount due as on 31st March 2009 from the beneficiaries is Rs. 5.93 crores. (Including non-fund based exposure of Rs. 0.37 crores).

Management Perception

Bank is adequately covered under collateral security as in the case of other customers.

18. Some of the ventures of our promoters are loss making and has made loss in the recent fiscal years

Following are the loss making ventures of the promoters:

Name of the venture	Net profit/ (loss) for the year ended March 31 (Rs. in Lakhs)

Year	2006	2007	2008
Vaishnavi Marketing	(0.67)	(3.78)	2.73

Management Perception

There is no cross holding of shares by the promoters, amongst the ventures of the promoters. Hence the financials of the above mentioned ventures are not likely to affect the performance of the Bank.

19. There are operational risks associated with the banking industry which, when realised, may have an adverse impact on the Bank's results.

The bank is exposed to many types of operational risks, including the risk of fraud or other misconduct by employees or outsiders, unauthorised transactions by employees or operational errors, including clerical or recordkeeping errors or errors resulting from faulty computer or telecommunications systems. Given the high volume of transactions of the bank, certain errors may be repeated or compounded before they are discovered and successfully rectified. In addition, the bank's dependence upon automated systems to record and process transactions may further increase the risk that technical system flaws or employee tampering or manipulation of those systems will result in losses that are difficult to detect. The bank may also be subject to disruptions of the operating systems, arising from events that are wholly or partially beyond the control of the bank (including, for example, computer viruses or electrical or telecommunication outages), which may give rise to deterioration in customer service and to loss or liability to the bank.

20. There have been certain audit qualifications in the Auditor's reports of our Bank.

There have been certain audit qualifications as mentioned herein below which have been mentioned in the Auditor's Report of our Bank:

a. In the interbank reconciliation where there were unreconciled entries pending for more than 6 months, the bank has to make provision in respect of the net amount of debit entries. Auditors are required to mention details of such net debit entries and quantify the provision made. Though the unreconciled pending entries were more than 6 months old, there were no net debit entries warranting any provision.

a. b. In a few branches, tallying of the balances in the accounts as per General Ledger with those of subsidiary ledger / registers / schedules is in progress. Non tallying of balance appearing in the ledger with that of subsidiary ledger / register may result in provision requirement. The provisioning requirement, if any can be ascertained only after tallying the figures. The effect of this on the profits of the bank therefore is not ascertainable.

Management Perception

Bank has taken sufficient care to ensure that no financial risk devolved in respect of aforesaid audit qualifications.

21. System failures and calamities to the various facilities provided by the bank could adversely impact the bank's business

With the implementation of CBS and other technology initiatives, the importance of systems technology to its business has increased significantly. The Bank's principal delivery channels include its branches and ATMs. Each of these delivery channels is vulnerable to systems failures or other calamities. Although the bank currently has the technology and facilities in place to back up its systems and the bank has established a Disaster Recovery Centre in Bangalore, any failure in the systems or the occurrence of calamities, accidents and other unexpected events that affect areas in which the bank has a significant presence, could affect the operations and the quality of its customer service.

22. A significant reduction in the credit rating could adversely affect the business, financial condition and results of operations.

The rating agency CARE after due surveillance as on December 29, 2008, assigned the revised rating of BBB+ (Triple B plus) from A- (A minus) assigned earlier to the Lower Tier II Bonds aggregating to Rs. 110 crores (Series IIIA and IIIB – Rs. 50 crores, Series IVA and IVB – Rs. 30 crores and Series V – Rs. 30 crores) indicating moderate safety for timely servicing of debt obligations. On 10th September 2009, Fitch Ratings has rated LVB's existing INR300mn Lower Tier 2 subordinated bonds at 'BBB+(ind)' and assigned its proposed INR1bn Lower Tier 2 subordinated bonds programme a 'BBB+(ind)' National Long-term rating. In March 2009, ICRA has assigned a LBBB+(pronounced L Triple B + rating to the proposed INR 1400 mn Lower Tier II Bonds programme of Lakshmi Vilas Bank. This rating was not availed of by the Bank. Any further downgrade in the bank's credit rating may negatively affect its ability to obtain funds and increase its financing costs by increasing the interest rates of the outstanding debt or the interest rates at which the bank is able to refinance existing debt or incur new debt, which may adversely affect bank's business, financial condition and results of operations.

23. We may fail to maintain the minimum capital adequacy requirements stipulated by the RBI, which could make RBI take certain actions and also have an impact on the ability of our business to grow.

We are required by the RBI to maintain a minimum capital adequacy ratio of 9% in relation to our total risk-weighted assets. We must maintain this minimum capital adequacy level to support our growth. Our capital adequacy ratio was 10.09% as at March 31, 2009. Although we currently meet the applicable capital adequacy requirements, certain adverse developments could affect our ability to continue to satisfy the capital adequacy requirements, including deterioration in our asset quality, declines in the values of our investments and changes in the minimum capital adequacy requirements. Furthermore, our ability to support and grow our business could be limited by a declining capital adequacy ratio if we are unable to access or have difficulty accessing the capital markets or have difficulty obtaining capital in any other manner. If we fail to meet capital adequacy requirements, the RBI may take certain actions, including restricting our lending and investment activities and the payment of dividends by us. These actions could materially and adversely affect our reputation, results of operations and financial condition. The Bank has not failed to maintain capital adequacy requirements as stipulated by the RBI in the past six years and therefore has not warranted any punitive action by the RBI in this regard.

Management Perception

Bank has been taking adequate steps to maintain capital requirements by augmenting the same at the appropriate times.

24. Significant security breaches in our computer systems and network infrastructure could materially and adversely impact our business.

We depend on our computer systems to process a large number of transactions on an accurate and timely basis, and to store and process substantially all of our business and operating data. We seek to protect our computer systems and network infrastructure from physical break-ins as well as security breaches and other disruptive problems. Computer break-ins and power disruptions could affect the security of information stored in and transmitted through these computer systems and networks. We have implemented the Internet banking platform and we believe that these concerns will intensify with our increased use of technology and Internet-based resources. However, Risk management systems may not guarantee prevention of frauds, break-ins, damage or failure.

Management Perception

The Bank has put in a robust security infrastructure with Firewalls, Intrusion Detection System, Anti Virus System and the same is continuously monitored. We also conduct periodical penetration testing and ethical hacking to ensure that the security infrastructure is robust and difficult to penetrate. The entire IT infrastructure has enough redundancies as a part of the Business Continuity Plan due to which the critical services are always on high availability mode. A fully functional DR site is place where periodical DR drills are conducted.

Increased technology usage brings in additional risks and dependencies for which adequate back up arrangements are in place.

25. We do not have a registered trademark for our logo.

We have filed an application with the Trade Marks Registry for the registration of our logo. However, unless our trademark is registered we cannot prohibit other persons from using the logo, which may materially and adversely affect our goodwill and business. If we fail to successfully obtain or enforce our trade mark rights with respect to our logo, we may need to change our logo. Any such change could require us to incur additional costs and may impact our brand recognition among customers.

26. Any inability to attract and retain talented and professional manpower could adversely affect our business and financial performance

Our Bank's business depends substantially on the continued service of our key managerial personnel and loss of their services could have a material adverse effect on the Company. The Bank's future success will also depend on its ability to attract and retain skilled personnel. If the Bank fails to attract and retain talented professionals, the resignation or loss of key management personnel may have an impact on Bank's business and financial performance.

Management Perception

The Bank's Human Resource Development (HRD) policy aims at bringing in new talent to meet the growing challenges in dynamic scenario in banking sector. Attempts have been made for lateral recruitment of skilled and professional candidates and impart training to upgrade their skills. The attrition rate in the key management positions in the Bank is very low

27. Inability to foreclose on collateral in the event of a default may result in the Bank's failure to recover the expected value of the collateral.

The Bank's loans to corporate customers for working capital credit facilities are typically secured by charges on inventories, receivables and other current assets. In certain cases, the Bank obtains security by way of a first or second charge on fixed assets, a pledge of marketable securities, corporate guarantees and personal guarantees. In addition, project loans or long-term loans to corporate customers are secured by a charge on fixed assets and other collateral security. Loans to retail customers are either unsecured or secured by the assets financed, which largely consist of property, gold ornaments and vehicles.

In India, foreclosure on collateral generally requires a written petition to a court or tribunal. An application may be subject to delays and administrative requirements that may result, or be accompanied by, a decrease in the value of the collateral. While changes in law such as the enactment of the SARFAESI, may simplify the process of recovering NPAs enforcing securities and recover amounts owed from secured borrowers without the intervention of courts, there can be no assurance that such legislation will have a favourable impact on the Bank's efforts to recover NPAs. Any failure to recover the expected value of the collateral would adversely impact the Bank's financial condition and results of operations.

28. The value of the collateral held by the Bank may decline in the future.

There can be no assurance that the Bank's loans are collateralized at adequate levels. The collateral may be over-valued and not accurately reflect its liquidation value, which is the maximum amount the Bank is likely to recover from a sale of collateral less the expenses on such sale. In addition, some of the valuations in respect of collateral held by the Bank may be out of date or may not accurately reflect the value thereof. In certain instances where there are no purchasers for a particular type of collateral, it may be worthless. Consequently, the protection afforded by collateral held by the Bank may be overstated. In addition, since a portion of the Bank's loan portfolio is secured by real property, inventory or other collateral located in India, the value of these assets may be negatively affected by political, economic and social conditions in India. Any decline in the value of the collateral securing the Bank's loans, including with respect to any future collateral taken by the Bank, would mean that its provisioning may be inadequate and require an increase in the Bank's provisions. Any increase in the Bank's provisions would adversely affect the Bank's financial condition and results of operation, as well as its capital adequacy ratio, and could require it to raise additional capital.

29. There has been a shortfall in the actual performance in comparison to the promises made in the offer document prepared in connection with the rights issue of equity shares made by the Bank in 1993 and 1995

The Bank has made rights issue of equity shares in the years 1993, 1995 and 2005. Out of which, the Bank did not make any projections during the year 2005. The Bank could not meet the projections made in the Rights Issue made in the years 1993 and 1995. The Bank was unable to achieve the projected financials as detailed on page number 234 of this Letter of Offer under the section "Statutory and Other Information"

External Risk Factors

1. A slowdown in economic growth in India could cause the Bank's business to suffer.

The Indian economy has shown sustained growth over the last few years with GDP growing at 9.5% in fiscal 2006, 9.7% in fiscal 2007, and 9% in fiscal 2008. However, fiscal 2009 saw a dip in estimated GDP growth to 7.1%. Similarly, growth in industrial and agricultural production in India has been variable. Growth in Agriculture and Industry in India has dipped from 5.8% and 10.2% in fiscal 2006 to estimated 2.6% and 4.8% in fiscal 2009. The Bank currently operates only in the domestic Indian market, and the Bank's performance is intertwined with the overall economy, the GDP growth rate and the economic cycle in India. The Indian economy could be adversely affected by a number of factors. A significant increase in the price of crude oil, and appreciation of the Indian Rupee against the US dollar or events like the sub-prime crisis in the US could adversely affect the Indian economy. India's economy could also be adversely affected by a general rise in interest rates and unfavourable weather conditions adversely affecting agriculture. Any slowdown in the Indian economy or volatility in global commodity prices, in particular oil and steel prices, could adversely affect the Bank's borrowers and contractual counterparties. Further, given the importance of the agricultural, Iron and Steel, Chemical and Drugs industries to the Bank's business, any slowdown in the growth of these industries could also adversely impact the Bank's performance.

2. There are a number of restrictions as per the Banking Regulation Act, which impede the flexibility of the Bank's operations and affect/restrict investor's right. Further, any material changes in the regulations that govern the bank could adversely affect the bank's business and financial performance

Banks in India are regulated by the Banking Regulation Act, the Companies Act and SEBI (to the extent they are listed on an Indian stock exchange) and are also subject to detailed supervision and regulation by the RBI and Ministry of Finance.

a. Restrictions on the business to be carried on by the Banks: The Banks can carry on business/ activities as specified in the Act. There is no flexibility to pursue profitable avenues if they arise, in contrast with Companies under the Companies Act, 1956, where the shareholders can amend the objects clause by a special resolution;

- b. Restrictions on payment of dividend: No Banking company can pay any dividend on its shares until all its capitalized expenses (including preliminary expenses, organizational expenses, share selling commission, brokerage, amounts of losses incurred and any other item of expenditure not represented by tangible assets) have been completely written off, thus preventing dividend payments unless the conditions are met;
- c. Restrictions limiting maximum shareholding;
- d. Restrictions requiring the maintenance of reserves;
- e. Restrictions requiring consent from the RBI to be obtained for opening new places of business and transfers of existing places of business;
- f. Restrictions regarding reconstruction of banks through Amalgamation or otherwise;
- g. Requirement to maintain assets in India equivalent to not less than 75% of its demand and time liabilities in India;
- h. Requirement to obtain approval of the RBI for the appointment and remuneration of its Chairman, Managing Director (or equivalent) and other whole-time directors;
- i. Requirement to obtain approval of the RBI for the creation of floating charges on its borrowings, thereby hampering leverage;
- j. Restrictions with respect to disclosures in the Profit & Loss account and Balance Sheet, production of documents and availability of records for inspection by shareholders.

The laws and regulations governing banks (or their official interpretation or application) are subject generally to changes in Indian law, as well as to changes in regulations, government policies and accounting principles, and any such changes could adversely affect the business and financial performance of the Bank.

In addition, changes to regulations that directly impact the Bank's equity shareholders, such as regulations with regard to dividends and voting rights, could adversely affect the price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

There are a number of restrictions under the Banking Regulation Act that impede the Bank's operating flexibility and affect or restrict equity shareholders' rights. These include the following:

The Bank is required to maintain certain prudential limits set by RBI. These limits require the Bank, inter alia, to maintain certain capital adequacy ratios, to limit the Bank's exposure to single and group borrowers and other risks and to maintain certain provisions against nonperforming assets. The Bank is also subject to the directed lending norms of RBI.

3. The Bank is required to maintain cash reserve and statutory liquidity ratios with RBI and increase in these requirements could adversely affect the Bank's business.

Under RBI Regulations, the bank is subject to a Cash Reserve Ratio requirement. The bank is currently required to keep 5% of the net demand and time liabilities in a current account with the RBI. The RBI may increase the Cash Reserve Ratio requirement as a monetary policy measure. The bank does not earn interest on this reserve. In addition, under The Banking Regulation Act, the liabilities are subject to a Statutory Liquidity Ratio requirement, according to which 24% of the demand and time liabilities need to be invested in GOI securities, state government securities and other approved securities. Increases in Cash Reserve Ratio and Statutory Liquidity Ratio requirements could adversely affect the business and financial performance.

4. Regulations in India requiring the Bank to extend a minimum level of loans to certain sectors in India may subject the Bank to higher delinquency rates.

The priority sector lending norms of the RBI require all banks in India to extend at least 40% of their net bank credit (i.e., the gross bank credit less certain foreign currency non-resident deposits) to specified sectors, including agriculture and small scale industries, which are known as "priority sectors". In accordance with regulatory requirements in India, at least 18% of the Bank's net bank credit must be extended to the agricultural sector, and at least 12% towards the export sector. Although such priority sector loans are extended to borrowers who have met the Bank's internal credit rating guidelines and against what the Bank believes to be adequate security, adverse economic circumstances, including those resulting from changes in government policies, adverse weather conditions and natural calamities, may adversely impact these priority sectors resulting in an increase in impaired loans in these sectors. In addition, the criteria for having agricultural loans as non-performing are not as stringent as compared to the criteria for non-agricultural loans. For example, loans to agricultural borrowers can only be classified as non-performing if the loan remains overdue for more than two harvest seasons. Like other Indian commercial banks, if the Bank fails to achieve the prescribed lending target to the priority sectors or the agricultural sector, it is required to contribute to the Rural Infrastructure Development Fund ("RIDF") of NABARD, investments, which offer lower rates of return. Continued shortfalls in the Bank's lending to the priority and agricultural sector and increased contributions to the RIDF may adversely affect the Bank's future financial performance.

5. If ownership restrictions on private sector banks are relaxed, a single investor may acquire a controlling stake in the Bank.

If the current restrictions are further liberalized to allow either increased investment by Indian entities or greater foreign ownership, a single entity or group of investors acting in unison, may acquire equity shares of the Bank to the extent that would allow it / them to control or strongly influence the Bank. Such an entity would, subject to restrictions in the Bank's Articles of Association, be able to determine, or would have a disproportionate influence compared to other shareholders in, the election of the Board of Directors, management policies and the outcome of corporate transactions submitted to shareholders for approval. There can be no assurance that any future controlling shareholder will have the same interests as any minority shareholder or will pursue the same strategies as the current management.

6. Foreign investment in the Bank is subject to limits specified by the Government of India.

Under Indian laws, the aggregate permissible foreign investment (including foreign direct investment ("FDI") and investment by registered foreign institutional investors ("FIIs") and nonresident Indians ("NRIs")) in a private sector bank, such as the Bank, is limited to an aggregate of 74% of the paid up capital of such bank and the aggregate investment by FIIs is limited to 24% of the paid up capital of such Bank. Accordingly, unless the current foreign investment limit applicable to the Bank is liberalized, the scope of additional foreign investment in the Bank will be limited. Once the aggregate foreign investment in the Bank reaches this cut-off point, the RBI cautions non-resident investors and authorised dealers not to further transact in equity shares of such bank without prior approval of the RBI. These restrictions may adversely affect the liquidity of the Bank's Equity Shares and could result in the absence of FII buying support even in situations where there is a decline in the price of the equity shares.

7. Political instability and significant changes in the Government's policy on liberalisation of the Indian economy could impact the Bank's financial results and prospects.

India has been charting a course of economic liberalisation and the Bank's business could be significantly influenced by the economic policies of the Government. The current UPA Government which came to power in May 2009 has announced policies that continue the economic liberalization policies. However, there can be no assurance that these liberalisation policies and the political stability will continue in the future. The rate of economic liberalisation could change, and laws and policies affecting banking and finance companies, foreign investment, currency exchange and other matters affecting investment in the Bank's securities could change as well. Any significant change in liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India generally and the Bank's business in particular. If the Government introduces significant changes, the competitive position of the Bank's borrowers may be adversely affected and this may impact the quality of the Bank's loan portfolio.

8. The Indian banking industry is very competitive and the Bank's ability to grow depends on its ability to compete effectively.

The Indian banking industry is very competitive. The Bank competes directly with large public sector banks, which have larger customer and deposit bases, larger branch networks and more capital. The large public sector banks are also expected to improve their customer service networks and technology platforms, which will allow them to enhance their competitive position against private sector banks such as the Bank. The Bank also competes with other private sector banks in India, some of which also have larger customer bases and greater financial resources than the Bank. In particular, other private sector banks may have operational advantages in implementing new technologies, rationalizing branches and recruiting employees through incentive based compensation. The Bank also faces competition from foreign banks that have established branches in India and have aggressively pursued a share of business in the market.

9. A decline in India's foreign exchange reserves may affect liquidity and interest rates in the Indian economy, which could adversely impact the Bank.

A decline in India's foreign exchange reserves could result in reduced liquidity and higher interest rates in the Indian economy, which in turn could adversely affect the Bank's business and future financial performance and the market price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

10. Financial instability in other countries, particularly emerging market countries, could disrupt the Bank's business and affect the price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country may have an adverse effect on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy, including the movement of exchange rates and interest rates in India, which could adversely affect the Indian financial sector in particular. Any such disruption could have an adverse effect on the Bank's business, future financial performance, financial condition and results of operations, and affect the price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

11. Movement in Interest Rate may impact the Bank adversely

The risk of potential impact on net interest income/net interest margin/market value of the security covered by unexpected changes in market interest rates. These risks are inherent in the banking business. Adverse movement of interest rate will necessitate depreciation to be provided on investments affecting the profitability of the Bank.

12. Fluctuation in Foreign exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Bank

As a financial intermediary, the Bank is exposed to exchange rate risk in its foreign exchange transactions. Although the Bank complies with regulatory limits on its unhedged foreign currency exposure, the Bank is exposed to fluctuation in foreign currency rates for its un-hedged exposure and any hedged exposure where the relevant counterparty fails to perform its obligations. Adverse movements in foreign exchange rates may also impact the Bank's borrowers negatively which may in turn adversely impact the quality of the Bank's exposure to these borrowers. Volatility in foreign exchange rates could adversely affect the Bank's financial performance and consequently the market price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

13. Dis-intermediation Risk

With the globalization and liberalization of the economy, the Corporates now have various options for raising the funds to meet their requirements. These options include raising funds through the capital markets through Initial Public Offering/ Rights Issue/ Follow-on Issue, External Commercial Borrowings, Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds, etc. This has reduced the dependence of Corporates on traditional Banking systems. This Dis-intermediation Risk may affect the business of the banks including us.

14. Hostilities, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other acts of violence could adversely affect the financial markets and the Bank's business.

Terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war may adversely affect the Indian markets on which the Bank's Equity Shares trade. These acts may result in a loss of business confidence, make travel and other services more difficult and could generally have an adverse effect on the Bank's business. In addition, any deterioration in international relations may result in investor concern regarding regional stability which could adversely affect the price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

In addition, India has witnessed localised civil disturbances in recent years and it is possible that future civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic or political events in India could have an adverse impact on the Bank's business. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse impact on the Bank's business and the market price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

15. Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and harm the Bank's business.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, floods, drought and a tsunami in recent years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determines their impact on the Indian economy. For example, as a result of drought conditions during fiscal 2003, the agricultural sector recorded negative growth of 5.2% and the erratic progress of the monsoon in 2004 adversely affected sowing operations for certain crops. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall and other natural calamities could have an adverse impact on the Indian economy which could adversely affect Bank's business and the price of the Bank's Equity Shares.

16. Any downgrading of India's debt rating by an international rating agency could have a negative impact on the Bank's business.

Any adverse revision to India's credit rating for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact the Bank's ability to raise additional financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on the Bank's financial performance and the Bank's ability to obtain financing to fund its growth on favourable terms or at all.

INTRODUCTION

Industry Overview

(The information presented in this section has been extracted from publicly available documents, which have not been prepared or independently verified by the Bank, the Lead Managers or any of their respective affiliates or advisors.)

Following the wide-ranging reforms undertaken since the early 1990s, the Indian banking system has become quite robust. The Indian banking industry has largely remained protected from the global financial turbulence. The Reserve Bank has, however, been vigilant about the lessons that have emerged from the global credit crisis. The Reserve Bank has been constantly reviewing and refining its regulatory and supervisory policies to ensure strong capital base, effective risk management and best corporate governance standards in the banking sector. In recent years, the focus has also been on improving credit delivery and customer service and promoting financial inclusion.

An important development during the year was the adoption of the Basel II framework by foreign banks operating in India and Indian banks having operational presence outside India. A few changes were also made in the revised capital adequacy framework based on the feedback received, while detailed guidelines relating to Pillar 2 were also issued. Along with measures to conform to the best prudential practices followed internationally, the Reserve Bank also undertook a number of initiatives to facilitate access to credit to the underserved sections/sectors of the economy.

In line with the policy initiatives undertaken by the Reserve Bank, the growth in credit by SCBs exhibited some moderation during the year. The moderation in credit was observed across all the sectors, barring services. On the liability side, deposit growth continued to be strong, albeit it was marginally lower than that in the previous year mainly on account of deceleration in term deposits. Banks' investments in government and other securities recorded a higher growth during 2007-08, partly on account of a large issuance of MSS securities during the year. However, as percentage of net demand and time liabilities (NDTL), investment by banks in Government and other approved securities remained more or less at the previous year's level. Overall, the credit-deposit ratio of banks declined during the year as a result of continued strong growth in deposits combined with moderation in credit.

Net interest margins of banks continued to decline during the year, reflecting the increase in competitive pressures. However, sharp increase in non-interest income and subdued growth in operating costs resulted in sharp increase in net profits of SCBs during the year. Consequently, return on assets showed a marginal improvement in 2007-08. Despite increase in gross nonperforming assets (NPAs) in absolute terms during the year, asset quality (gross NPAs as percentage of gross loans and advances) of banks in general and of public sector banks in particular continued to improve. The capital to risk-weighted assets ratio of the banking sector also showed marked improvement during the year, both on account of large capital raised by banks from the capital market during 2007-08 and increase in reserves.

The Promoters have confirmed that each of them intend to subscribe to the full extent of their entitlement in the Issue. The Promoters reserves their right to subscribe to their entitlement in the Rights Issue either by themselves, their relatives or a combination of entities controlled by them, including by subscribing for renunciation, if any, made by any of the Promoters to any other Promoter and/ or an affiliate thereof. The Promoters may apply for additional Equity Shares in the Issue. As a result of this subscription and consequent allotment, the Promoters may acquire shares over and above their entitlement in the Issue, which may result in an increase of the shareholding being above the current shareholding with the entitlement of Equity Shares under the Issue. This subscription shall be exempt in terms of the proviso to Regulation 3(1)(b)(ii) of the Takeover Code.

This acquisition will however be subject to the terms and conditions as laid down in the RBI Circular reproduced below:

Rights issues by private sector banks – Acknowledgement of transfer / allotment of shares

1) In terms of RBI Circular DBOD.No.PSBS.BC.79/16.13.100 /2001-2002 dated March 20, 2002, listed as well as unlisted private sector banks are not required to obtain approval of RBI for Rights Issue.

2) While reviewing the following issues have emerged with reference to percentage of holding at the time of rights issue:-

a) When some shareholders (individuals/ entities / groups) pick up unsubscribed shares which would result in his / its holding going up as a percentage of total paid up capital of the bank.

b) When Some shareholders not picking up their entitlements, holdings of the other shareholders would go up in percentage even if they pick up their own entitlements.

The above matter has been examined from the point of view of applicability of RBI Circular DBOD. NO.PSBS. BC. 64/ 16.13.100/ 2003-04 dated February 3, 2004 on acknowledgement of transfer/ allotment of shares in governance and also the regulatory limits such as the cap for the aggregate FDI/FII/NRI holdings and the 5% limit for a bank's investment in equity of another bank.

In view of the above RBI vide Circular DBOD. NO. PSBD. BC. 99/16.13.100 /2004-05 dated June 25, 2005 has advised banks going for rights issue to make complete disclosure of the regulatory requirements in the offer documents, including the following that:

i. Subscription to rights other than own entitlement will not be permitted if such subscription would result in breach of any statutory / regulatory ceilings

ii. any acquisition of shares that will take the shareholding of any entity/ group of entities to 5% or more of the paid up capital of the bank would require acknowledgement of RBI in terms of the criteria laid down in the RBI guidelines contained in the Circular DBOD. NO.PSBS. BC. 64/ 16.13.100/ 2003-04 dated February 3, 2004. Further, in terms of the guidelines on ownership and governance issued on February 28, 2005 any acquisition that will take the shareholding of any entity/ group, directly or indirectly, to 10% or more of the paid-up capital of the bank will require the prior approval of RBI

iii. If the holding of any shareholder breaches any statutory / regulatory ceilings as a result of non-subscription of rights by other shareholders, the shareholder concerned will not be able to acquire any further shares till his/ its shareholding is brought within the stipulated ceilings.

Global Economy

Developments during 2008

The global financial crisis seems to have entered a new turbulent phase since September 2008 which has severely impaired confidence in global financial institutions and markets. According to the World Economic Outlook Update by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in November 2008, prospects for global growth have deteriorated as financial sector deleveraging has continued and producer and consumer confidence have fallen. Accordingly, world output is projected to decelerate to 3.7 per cent in 2008 and further to 2.2 per cent in 2009. Slowdown has been witnessed in both advanced and emerging market economies in the second quarter of 2008. All major advanced economies such as Euro Area, Japan, Korea, the UK, the US and OECD countries registered decelerated growth in the second quarter of 2008, as compared with that in the first quarter of 2008. The deceleration in growth was also exhibited by emerging and developing economies such as Argentina, China, India, Malaysia and Thailand in the second quarter of 2008.

Indian Economy

Indian financial markets have generally remained orderly during 2008-09. Money market rates moderated at the beginning of the first quarter of 2008-09, but mostly hovered above/around the repo rate during the second quarter of 2008-09, reflecting the impact of, inter alia, the hikes in the cash reserve ratio (CRR) and the repo rate as well as foreign exchange market operations of the Reserve Bank. In view of the tight liquidity conditions in the domestic money markets in September 2008, the Reserve Bank announced a series of measures beginning September 16, 2008. As a result, the average call rate, which was at 10.52 per cent, declined to 7.57 per cent in November 2008.

Policy Developments

Following the wide-ranging reforms undertaken since the early 1990s, the Indian banking system has become quite robust. The Indian banking industry has largely remained protected from the global financial turbulence. The Reserve Bank has, however, been vigilant about the lessons that have emerged from the global credit crisis. The Reserve Bank has been constantly reviewing and refining its regulatory and supervisory policies to ensure strong capital base, effective risk management and best corporate governance standards in the banking sector. In recent years, the focus has also been on improving credit delivery and customer service and promoting financial inclusion.

An important development during the year was the adoption of the Basel II framework by foreign banks operating in India and Indian banks having operational presence outside India. A few changes were also made in the revised capital adequacy framework based on the feedback received, while detailed guidelines relating to Pillar 2 were also issued. It has been the endeavour of the Reserve Bank to put in place safe and efficient payment and settlement systems in the country. In this context, the enactment of the Payments and Settlement Systems Act, 2007 designated the Reserve Bank as the regulator of the payment and settlement systems in the country, thus paving the way for efficient regulation, control, functioning and audit of the systems. Along with measures to conform to the best prudential practices followed internationally, the Reserve Bank also undertook a number of initiatives to facilitate access to credit to the underserved sections/sectors of the economy.

Monetary Policy

Several challenges such as unprecedented capital flows, turbulent international financial markets and increase in headline inflation and inflationary expectations had a bearing on the conduct of monetary policy during 2007-08. Monetary conditions were impacted by significant shifts and developments in both global and domestic arenas by the year-end as compared with the initial assessment. While aggregate supply capacity expanded, economic activity continued to be mainly demand-driven. Inflation picked up in the fourth quarter of 2007-08 mainly due to supply-side pressures that essentially emanated from global surge in prices of commodities such as foodgrains, crude oil and steel. Several new challenges have emerged in 2008-09 with the global financial system undergoing a crisis of unprecedented dimension. Liquidity in the domestic money and foreign exchange markets was squeezed as knock-on effects of international crisis. While inflation reached multi-year highs in the early part of the year and continues to be above the acceptable level, there has been a moderation in the growth momentum of the economy. Consequently, the task of conduct of monetary policy has become more complex than before. The reconstituted Technical Advisory Committee on Monetary Policy (TACMP), with tenure up to January 31, 2009, has strengthened the consultative mechanism for monetary policy in India as important issues are discussed in its meetings held from time to time. TACMP's role is, however, advisory in nature and the responsibility and accountability of decision-making rests with the Reserve Bank. The Committee is headed by the Reserve Bank Governor with the Deputy Governor in charge of monetary policy as Vice Chairman and comprises the other three Deputy Governors, two members of the Central Board of the Reserve Bank and five external members with expertise in the areas of monetary economics, central banking, financial markets and public finance.

 - The period of entitlement of the first slab of pre-shipment rupee export credit and post-shipment rupee export credit was extended by 90 days each with effect from November 15, 2008 and December 1, 2008, respectively.
 - The eligible limit of the export credit refinance (ECR) facility for scheduled banks (excluding RRBs) was enhanced to 50 per cent of the outstanding export credit eligible for refinance as at the end of the second preceding fortnight, as against the earlier limit of 15 per cent.
 - Amounts were allocated, in advance, from SCBs for contribution to the Small Industries Development Bank of India (SIDBI) and the NHB to the extent of Rs.2,000 crore and Rs.1,000 crore, respectively, against banks' estimated shortfall in priority sector lending in March 2009.
 - Provisioning requirement for all types of standard assets was reduced to a uniform level of 0.4 per cent except in the case of direct advances to agriculture and SMEs sectors which would continue to attract provisioning of 0.25 per cent.
 - Risk weight on all unrated claims of corporates, long term as well as short term, regardless of the amount of claim, would be 100 per cent. Risk weight on claims secured by commercial real estate was reduced to 100 per cent from 150 per cent. Claims on rated as well as unrated NBFCs-ND-SI are uniformly risk weighted at 100 per cent. Claims on asset financing companies (AFCs) would continue to be governed by the credit rating of the AFCs, except the claims that attracted a risk weight of 150 per cent under the new capital adequacy framework now have a risk weight of 100 per cent.
 - Indian banks with foreign branches and subsidiaries have been allowed forex swaps of tenure up to three months, till end-June 2009, to meet the short-term funding requirements at their overseas offices.
- Growth Stimulus Announced on December 6, 2008
- The repo rate and the reverse repo rate were reduced by 100 basis points each to 6.5 per cent and 5.0 per cent, respectively, on December 8, 2008.
 - To enhance credit flow to the MSE sector, SIDBI would be provided refinance worth Rs.7,000 crore. The facility, available up to end-March 2010, would be available at the prevailing repo rate under the LAF for a 90-day period, during which the amount can be flexibly drawn and repaid and can be rolled over at the end of the 90-day period. The utilisation of funds would be governed by the policy approved by SIDBI's Board.
 - A similar refinance facility worth Rs.4,000 crore to be worked out for NHB.
 - As a follow-up to the announcement in November 2008, the policy on premature buyback of FCCBs by Indian companies was liberalised and applications for buyback would be considered under both automatic and approval routes and related compliance terms and conditions were issued.
 - Up to March 31, 2010, loans granted by banks to HFCs for on-lending to individuals for purchase/construction of dwelling units would be classified under priority sector, provided the housing loans granted by HFCs do not exceed Rs.20 lakh per dwelling unit per family. However, the eligibility under the measure is restricted to 5.0 per cent of the individual bank's total priority sector lending on an ongoing basis.
 - Exceptional/concessional treatment of retaining the asset classification of the restructured standard accounts in standard category has been extended to the commercial real estate exposures which are restructured up to June 30, 2009.
 - As there are likely to be instances of even viable units facing temporary cash flow problems in the face of the current economic downturn, as a one-time measure, the second restructuring done by banks of exposures (other than exposures to commercial real estate, capital market and personal/consumer loans) up to June 30, 2009, would also be eligible for exceptional regulatory treatment.
 - The prescribed interest rate applicable to post-shipment rupee export credit (ceiling of BPLR minus 250 basis points) was extended to overdue bills up to 180 days from the date of advance.

Bank Rate

The Bank Rate has been retained at 6.0 per cent since April 2003. Thus, the Bank Rate now functions as a signalling rate for the medium-term stance of the monetary policy, while the repo and reverse repo rates have become more commonly used signalling devices. With a view to fine-tuning the management of bank reserves on the last day of the maintenance period, the SLAF was reintroduced on August 1, 2008, to be conducted only on reporting Fridays for banks. The salient features of the SLAF are the same as those of the LAF. However, the settlement for the LAF and SLAF is conducted separately and on a gross basis. The SLAF is conducted on a daily basis with effect from September 17, 2008.

Repo/Reverse Repo Rate

The repo and reverse repo rates were kept unchanged during 2007-08. During 2008-09, up to July 2008, the repo rate was raised by 125 basis points in the light of evolving macroeconomic and monetary conditions. On October 20, 2008, however, the repo rate was cut by 100 basis points to 8.0 per cent. The repo rate was further reduced by 50 basis points to 7.5 per cent on November 3, 2008. On December 8, 2008, both repo and reverse repo rates were reduced by 100 basis points each to 6.5 per cent and 5.0 per cent, respectively.

Note : 1. With effect from October 29, 2004, the nomenclature of repo and reverse repo was changed in keeping with international usage. Now, reverse repo indicates absorption of liquidity and repo signifies injection of liquidity. The nomenclature in this Report is based on the new usage of terms even for the period prior to October 29, 2004.

Deposit Rates

The interest rate on savings bank deposits was last revised on March 1, 2003, when it was reduced to 3.5 per cent per annum from 4.0 per cent. Ceilings on interest rates on NRE deposits and FCNR (B) deposits are linked to the LIBOR/SWAP rates and are reviewed from time to time, depending on monetary and macroeconomic developments. The interest rate ceiling on NRE deposits for one to three year maturity was increased by 50 basis points each on September 16, 2008 and October 15, 2008 to LIBOR/SWAP rates plus 100 basis points. Another 75 basis points hike was effected on November 15, 2008. On September 16, 2008 following a review, the interest rate ceiling on FCNR (B) deposits was raised by 50 basis points to LIBOR/SWAP rates minus 25 basis points. In the light of adverse developments in the domestic money and foreign exchange markets following the deterioration in the international financial environment, the interest rate payable on FCNR (B) deposits was increased by further 50 basis points to LIBOR/ SWAP rates plus 25 basis points on October 15, 2008. The ceiling was increased to LIBOR/ SWAP rates plus 100 basis points on November 15, 2008. In view of the global developments during August-September, 2007 and with a view to giving an opportunity to SMEs to manage the challenges in the global markets, the Reserve Bank, in consultation with the Government of India, permitted all exporters from October 6, 2007 to earn interest on exchange earners' foreign currency (EEFC) accounts to the extent of outstanding balances of US$ 1 million per exporter in the form of term deposits up to one year maturing on or before October 31, 2008. The rate of interest was to be determined by the banks themselves. This, however, was a purely temporary measure subject to further review. Subsequently, the Reserve Bank in consultation with the Government of India, announced on August 4, 2008 that it would withdraw this facility from November 1, 2008.

Lending Rates

In the wake of the currency appreciation in the earlier months of 2007-08, the Government of India, in July 2007, announced a package of measures to provide relief to exporters. This included an interest rate subvention of 200 basis points per annum, for a temporary period, on rupee export credit availed of by exporters in nine categories of exports (textiles including handlooms; readymade garments; leather products; handicrafts; engineering products; processed agricultural products; marine products; sports goods and toys) and to all exporters from the SME sectors defined as micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs). Accordingly, it was decided that banks would charge interest rate not exceeding the benchmark prime lending rate (BPLR) minus 4.5 per cent on pre-shipment credit up to 180 days and post-shipment credit up to 90 days on the outstanding amount for the period April 1, 2007 to December 31, 2007 to all SME sectors and the nine sectors as defined above. In order to provide credit to the agricultural sector at a reasonable rate, the Union Budget for 2006-07 had announced the availability of short term credit up to Rs.3 lakh to farmers at 7.0 per cent per annum with effect from Kharif 2006-07, which was continued for the years 2007-08 and 2008-09. In this regard, the Union Budget made an initial provision of Rs.1,600 crore for interest subvention in 2008-09.

Priority Sector Lending

The guidelines on lending to priority sector were revised with effect from April 30, 2007 based on the Report of the Internal Working Group on Priority Sector Lending (Chairman: Shri C.S. Murthy). The priority sector broadly comprises agriculture, MSEs, retail trade, micro credit, education and housing subject to certain limits. The guidelines take into account the revised definition of MSEs as per the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Act, 2006. The priority sector lending targets (40 per cent and 32 per cent for domestic and foreign banks, respectively) have been linked to the adjusted net bank credit (ANBC) or the credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposures, whichever is higher, as on March 31 of the previous year, as against the previous practice of linking targets to the ongoing net bank credit. RRBs were permitted to extend direct finance up to Rs.10 lakh to the housing sector in rural and semi-urban areas as part of priority sector lending, with the prior approval of their boards. In August 2007, the limit of board-approved direct finance to housing by RRBs was raised to Rs.20 lakh, irrespective of the area. The Union Budget for 2008-09 set a target of Rs.2,80,000 crore for disbursement of agricultural credit during the year by all banks including co-operative banks and RRBs. Several measures were taken during the year to increase the flow of credit to agriculture and allied activities.

Domestic SCBs, both in the public and private sector, which fail to achieve the priority sector and/or agriculture lending targets, are required to deposit into the Rural Infrastructure Development Fund (RIDF) such amounts as may be allocated to them by the Reserve Bank. The Fund has completed thirteen years of operation. Domestic SCBs are required to lend 10 per cent of their ANBC or credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposure, whichever is higher, to weaker sections. It was, however, noted that most banks were not meeting this sub-target for lending to weaker sections and hence in May 2008, the Reserve Bank advised that the shortfall in lending to weaker sections would also be taken into account for the purpose of allocating amounts to banks for contribution to the RIDF or funds with other financial institutions with effect from April 2009.

Agricultural Debt Waiver and Debt Relief Scheme, 2008

The Union Budget for 2008-09 announced a scheme of agricultural debt waiver and debt relief for farmers with the total value of overdue loans to be waived then estimated at Rs.50,000 crore and a one-time settlement (OTS) relief on the overdue loans estimated at Rs.10,000 crore. The modalities of the debt waiver scheme were finalised by the Government in consultation with the Reserve Bank and the National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) and were notified on May 23, 2008. The scheme covers direct agricultural loans extended to 'marginal and small farmers' and 'other farmers' by SCBs, RRBs, co-operative credit institutions and local area banks.

Credit to Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) Sector

MSMEs are crucial to economic development as they further the objectives of employment generation, equitable distribution of national income, regional dispersal of industries, mobilisation of capital and entrepreneurial skills and enhancement of export earnings. To ease the difficulties faced by small manufacturing and services enterprises in accessing credit, the Code of Banks' Commitment to MSEs was formulated. The SLBCs were advised in May 2008 to apprise all their members about the Government of India's decision to continue the credit linked capital subsidy scheme (CLCSS) for technology upgradation of MSEs during the Eleventh Five Year Plan (2007-12), subject to the following terms and conditions: (a) ceiling on the loan under the scheme would be Rs.1 crore; (b) the rate of subsidy would be 15 per cent for all MSE units up to the loan ceiling at (a) above; (c) calculation of admissible subsidy to be done with reference to the purchase price of plant and machinery instead of the term loan disbursed to the beneficiary unit; and (d) SIDBI and NABARD to continue as the implementing agencies for the scheme.

Financial Inclusion

Financial inclusion is delivery of financial services, at an affordable cost, to the vast sections of disadvantaged/low-income groups who tend to be excluded from the formal financial system. Notwithstanding the widespread expansion of the banking sector during the last three decades, a sizeable proportion of the households, especially in rural areas, remains outside the coverage of the formal banking system. An important step to bring the financially excluded people within the fold of the formal financial sector was the promotion of micro finance in India (detailed in Chapter V). The SHG-bank linkage programme was launched by NABARD in 1992, with policy support from the Reserve Bank to facilitate collective decision making by the poor and provide 'door step' banking. The term 'financial inclusion' was explicitly used for the first time in the Annual Policy Statement for 2005-06. It indicated that the Reserve Bank would: (a) implement policies to encourage banks that provided extensive services, while disincentivising those which were not responsive to the banking needs of the community, including the underprivileged; (b) the nature, scope and cost of services would be monitored to assess whether there was any denial of basic banking services to the common person; and (c) banks were urged to review their existing practices to align them with the objective of financial inclusion. The Reserve Bank's broad approach to financial inclusion is to 'connect' people with the banking system and not just to dispense credit. The objective is to provide people with access to payment systems and establish financial inclusion as a viable business model and opportunity. The measures initiated by the Reserve Bank to bring the hitherto financially excluded population into the fold of the formal financial system include introduction of 'no-frills' accounts, promotion of financial literacy and responsible borrowing and encouraging adoption of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) solutions for achieving greater outreach as also reducing transaction costs.

Capital Adequacy

Basel II - Implementation

Guidelines on the Revised Framework, based on the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS) document "International Convergence of Capital Measurement and Capital Standards: A Revised Framework" (June 2006), were issued on April 27, 2007. During 2007-08, significant progress was made towards implementation of the Basel II as foreign banks operating in India and Indian banks having operational presence outside India migrated to the Revised Framework with effect from March 31, 2008, while all other commercial banks, except RRBs and local area banks, are required to migrate to these approaches not later than March 31, 2009. Banks are required to maintain a minimum capital to risk-weighted assets ratio (CRAR) of 9.0 per cent on an ongoing basis.

Pillar 2 Guidelines

The 'International Convergence of Capital Measurement and Capital Standards', commonly known as the Basel II Framework, has three components or Pillars. Pillar 1 pertains to minimum capital requirements, Pillar 2 is the SRP and Pillar 3 relates to market discipline. While the guidelines on Pillar 1 and Pillar 3 were issued by the Reserve Bank in April 2007, the guidelines in regard to Pillar 2, which comprises the SRP and the internal capital adequacy assessment process (ICAAP), were issued in March 2008. In fact, it is Pillar 2 that makes the Basel II framework more comprehensive in covering the various risks to which banks are exposed vis-à-vis Basel I which addressed only the credit and market risks. Pillar 2 requires banks to implement an internal process, viz., the ICAAP, for assessing their capital adequacy in relation to their risk profiles as well as a strategy for maintaining their capital levels. Pillar 2 also requires the supervisory authorities to subject all banks to an evaluation process and to initiate such supervisory measures on that basis, as might be considered necessary. The main focus of Pillar 2 is on the establishment of suitable risk management systems in banks and their review by the supervisory authority. The Reserve Bank will take into account the relevant risk factors and the internal capital adequacy assessment of each bank to ensure that the capital held by a bank is commensurate with the bank's overall risk profile, because it is important for a bank to maintain enough capital for all risks, as and when envisaged. This would include, among others, the effectiveness of a bank's risk management systems in identifying, assessing/measuring, monitoring and managing various risks including interest rate risk in the banking book, liquidity risk, concentration risk and residual risk. Holding additional capital becomes necessary for banks, on account of both – the possibility of some underestimation of risks under Pillar 1 and the actual risk exposure of a bank vis-à-vis the quality of its risk management architecture. Pillar 2, therefore, includes: (a) the risks that are not fully captured by the minimum capital ratio prescribed under Pillar 1 (for example, credit concentration risk); (b) the risks that are not at all taken into account by Pillar 1 (for example, interest rate risk in the banking book); and (c) the factors external to the bank (for example, business cycle effects). Another important aspect of Pillar 2 is the assessment of compliance with the minimum standards and disclosure requirements of the more advanced approaches available under Pillar 1, as and when these are permitted in a particular jurisdiction, so as to ensure that these requirements are met, both as qualifying criteria and on a continuing basis.

Amendments to the New Capital Adequacy Framework

With a view to ensuring smooth transition to the Revised Framework and providing an opportunity to streamline their systems and strategies, banks in India were advised by the Reserve Bank in May 2006, to undertake a parallel run of the Revised Framework. In the light of clarifications sought by banks during the course of implementation of the parallel run, the guidelines were reviewed and the following amendments, inter alia, were introduced on March 31, 2008: (i) Innovative Perpetual Debt Instruments (IPDI) in excess of 15 per cent of Tier 1 capital were allowed to be included in Tier 2 capital. (ii) A bank's aggregate investment in all types of instruments, eligible for capital status of investee banks/FIs/NBFCs/ primary dealers (PDs) should not exceed 10 per cent of the investing bank's capital funds (Tier 1 plus Tier 2, after adjustments). Any investment in excess of this limit should be deducted at 50 per cent from Tier I and 50 per cent from Tier II capital. (iii) The direct loan/credit/overdraft exposure, if any, of banks to the State Governments and the investment in State Government securities would attract zero risk weight, while State Government guaranteed claims would attract 20 per cent risk weight. (iv) Consumer credit, including personal loans and credit card receivables but excluding education loans, would attract a higher risk weight of 125 per cent or more, if warranted by the external rating (or, the lack of it) of the counterparty. As gold and gold jewellery are eligible financial collateral, the counterparty exposure in respect of personal loans secured by gold and gold jewellery would be worked out under the comprehensive approach. The 'exposure value after risk mitigation' would attract a risk weight of 125 per cent. (v) In respect of credit transactions, haircut would apply only to the eligible collateral but not to the credit exposure of the bank. On the other hand, exposures of banks, arising out of repo-style transactions would attract haircut. (vi) In the case of loans collateralised by a bank's own deposits, even if the tenure of such deposits was less than three months or deposits had maturity mismatch vis-à-vis the tenure of the loan, the provisions regarding de-recognition of collateral would not be attracted provided an explicit consent was obtained from the depositor (i.e., borrower) for adjusting the maturity proceeds of such deposits against the outstanding loan or for renewal of such deposits till the full repayment of the underlying loan. (vii) The capital charge for equities would apply on their current market value in a bank's trading book. (viii) The claims on non-scheduled banks, which were deducted from capital, would be risk weighted from 100 per cent to 625 per cent, depending on the CRAR of the institution concerned, with higher risk weights prescribed for banks with lower CRAR. In the case of banks where no capital adequacy norms were prescribed by the Reserve Bank, the CRAR was to be notionally calculated, by obtaining the necessary information from the investee banks, using the capital adequacy norms as applicable to commercial banks. (ix) In view of excess volatility in the stock markets across the world, equity was removed from the list of eligible financial collaterals. (x) Standard supervisory haircut provided for exposures and collaterals, which were obligations of foreign central sovereigns/ corporates. (xi) Capital adequacy framework applicable for repo/reverse-repo style transactions was specified. (xii) Detailed guidelines were incorporated for measuring the capital charge for interest rate risk (specific risk) in debt securities and other interest rate related instruments in the available for sale (AFS) and held for trading (HFT) categories.

Para-Banking Activities

The Reserve Bank has from time to time modified the framework of rules/ regulations/instructions to the SCBs for allowing them to undertake certain financial services or para-banking activities. Adequate safeguards have been put in place to ensure that the financial services or para-banking activities undertaken by banks are run on sound and prudent lines. In June 2007, guidelines were issued for banks to act as pension fund managers.

Financial Markets

In 2008-09, beginning September 2008, the international financial crisis has had indirect knock-on effects on domestic financial markets. Money markets experienced unusual tightening of liquidity as a result of global developments which were amplified by transient local factors. The foreign exchange market experienced pressure on account of portfolio outflows by FIIs and enhanced foreign exchange requirements of oil and fertiliser companies. Constraints in access to external financing as also re-pricing of risks and higher spreads resulted in additional demand from corporates for domestic bank credit with attendant hardening of interest rates across the spectrum. Given the uncertain global financial situation, it has been recognised that monitoring and maintenance of domestic financial stability warrants continuous attention.

Developments in the Money Market

The broad policy focus in the money market was to ensure stability, minimise default risk and achieve balanced development of its various segments. With a view to widening the collateral base, necessary changes were made in the Public Debt Office-Negotiated Dealing System (PDONDS) to enable the acceptance of the SDLs as eligible securities under the LAF repos with effect from April 3, 2007. A margin of 10 per cent was applied in respect of SDLs.

The Reserve Bank issued comprehensive guidelines in respect of derivatives in April 2007. Subsequently, the CCIL was advised to start a trade reporting platform for OTC derivative transactions to address the need for a mechanism to capture and disseminate trade information and provide post-trade processing infrastructure in respect of these transactions. The reporting platform for OTC rupee interest rate swaps (IRS) and forward rate agreements (FRA) was made operational by the CCIL on August 30, 2007 whereby banks and PDs report the IRS and FRA to the platform on a daily basis.

Exchange-traded interest rate futures (IRF) contracts were introduced on the NSE in 2003. These contracts, however, failed to attract a critical mass of participants and transactions. With a view to develop a robust IRF market, the Reserve Bank, in August 2007, constituted a Working Group on IRF (Chairman: Shri V.K. Sharma) following the recommendation made by the TAC on Money, Foreign Exchange and Government Securities Markets. The Group submitted its Report in March 2008 and based on the feedback received from the public, experts, banks, market participants and the Government, the Report was finalised on August 8, 2008. The major recommendations of the Report, inter alia, included: (a) banks could be allowed to take trading positions in IRF, subject to prudential regulations, and the extant practice of banks' participation in IRF for hedging risk in their underlying investment portfolio of Government securities classified under the AFS and the HFT categories, should be extended to the interest rate risk inherent in their entire balance sheet (both on and off-balance sheet items); (b) the extant norm of holding the entire SLR portfolio in HTM category should be reviewed; (c) the time limit on short selling to be extended so that the term/tenure/maturity of the short sale was co-terminus with that of the futures contract; (d) a system of transparent and rule-based pecuniary penalty for subsidiary general ledger (SGL) bouncing should replace the current regulatory penalty; and (e) the broader policy on IRF, including that relating to the product and participants, should be the responsibility of the Reserve Bank, while the micro-structure details should be left to respective exchanges.

Developments in the Government Securities Market the implementation of the Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management (FRBM) Act, 2003 and withdrawal of the Reserve Bank from the primary segment, development of the Government securities market has assumed vital importance. The Government Securities Act, 2006 empowered the Reserve Bank to continue with efforts to broaden and deepen the market in terms of participants, instruments and processes.

With a view to providing flexibility to participants and encouraging wider market participation, the Mid-term Review for 2007-08 announced that the short sale and 'when issued' transactions, that were permitted to be undertaken only on Negotiated Dealing System-Order Matching (NDS-OM) since introduction in February and May 2006, respectively, would be allowed to be covered outside the NDS-OM system. The cover transactions of short sales and 'when issued' were permitted to be undertaken through the telephone market or through purchases in primary market with effect from January 1, 2008.

The medium-term objective of the Reserve Bank is to allow current account facility only to banks and PDs. Many non-bank and non-PD entities, however, held current accounts as a pre-requisite for settlement of Government security transactions by Negotiated Dealing System (NDS) members.

The Annual Policy Statement for 2008-09 announced that a system of 'Multi Modal Settlements' would facilitate the settlement of Government security transactions undertaken by non-bank and non-PD NDS members. Accordingly, the settlement system under the NDS was modified for entities that did not maintain current accounts with the Reserve Bank.

Consequent to the announcement in the Annual Policy Statement for 2008-09, development of the system for separate trading for registered interest and principal of securities (STRIPS) has been taken up. The activity of stripping/reconstitution would be carried out in the NDS system of the Reserve Bank. To begin with, securities with coupon dates as January 2 and July 2, were identified as eligible for stripping/reconstitution on the basis of cash flow concentration among current coupon dates. The processing of requests for stripping/reconstitution would be carried out by PDs. The STRIPS system is proposed to be introduced during 2008-09.

Most of the recommendations of the High Level Committee on Corporate Bonds and Securitisation (Chairman: Dr. R.H. Patil) have been taken up for implementation. The Union Budget for 2008-09 abolished tax deduction at source on corporate bonds. Reporting platforms for corporate bonds were set up by the NSE and the BSE in July 2007 and the Fixed Income Money Market and Derivatives Association of India (FIMMDA) in September 2007. The Reserve Bank issued guidelines to its regulated entities to report their OTC trades on the FIMMDA platform. The Annual Policy Statement for the year 2008-09 announced that repos in corporate bonds would be introduced once the prerequisites, viz., efficient price discovery through greater public issuances and secondary market trading, and an efficient and safe settlement system based on delivery versus payment (DvP) III and straight through processing (STP) were met.

Developments in the Foreign Exchange Market

In line with the recommendations of the Committee on Fuller Capital Account Convertibility, a number of measures were taken during 2007-08 to further liberalise the foreign exchange transactions and simplify/rationalise the associated procedures to facilitate prompt and efficient customer service. The RBI (Amendment) Act, 2006 empowered the Reserve Bank to regulate interest rate, foreign currency and credit derivatives. Accordingly, the Reserve Bank initiated several measures to further develop the derivatives market in the country.

The Reserve Bank permitted authorised dealers (ADs) to allow refund of export proceeds for goods re-imported into India on account of poor quality, subject to certain conditions. Import rules were liberalised for business process outsourcing companies, schedule air transport service companies and importers of rough diamonds/precious/semi-precious stones. There was liberalisation of remittance schemes in respect of certain entities. The limits under Liberalised Remittance Scheme were further enhanced to US$ 200,000 in September 2007. In February 2008, guidelines for maintaining Vostro accounts abroad by foreign exchange houses under the rupee drawing arrangements were liberalised. In September 2008, the limit for advance remittance for all admissible current account transactions for import of services without bank guarantee was raised to US$ 500,000 from US$ 100,000.

AD category-I banks were allowed to grant rupee loans to non-resident Indian (NRI) employees of Indian companies for availing employees stock option plan schemes, subject to certain conditions.

Operations & performance of Commercial Banks

The Banking industry has seen several positive developments on metrics like growth, profitability and non performing assets (NPAs), thanks to the policy makers for notable efforts to improve regulation in the industry. Indian banks show favourable growth, asset quality and profitability compared to their global counterparts. However, the challenges that are being faced by the banking industry are discontinuous growth of innovative products like credit cards, wealth management etc., windfall in treasury gains, increased interest rate compared to competitors, etc.

Among the PSU banks, State bank of India, Punjab National bank, Canara Bank, Union Bank of India, etc. are the market leaders. Among the private sector banks, ICICI Bank, HDFC Bank, Axis Bank, etc. are leading. The market share of the Bank is around 0.19%. There is competition from all Private Sector Commercial Banks particularly Karur Vysya Bank, City Union Bank, South Indian Bank etc. However, the bank is well equipped with various tools of technological upgradation, enhanced customer relationship management, innovative products, etc. to face the challenges. (Source: Hindu Business Line dated 31.08.2009 and Profile of Banks 2008-09, RBI)

In line with the policy initiatives undertaken by the Reserve Bank, the growth in credit by SCBs exhibited some moderation during the year. The moderation in credit was observed across all the sectors, barring services. On the liability side, deposit growth continued to be strong, albeit it was marginally lower than that in the previous year mainly on account of deceleration in term deposits. Banks' investments in government and other securities recorded a higher growth during 2007-08, partly on account of a large issuance of MSS securities during the year. However, as percentage of net demand and time liabilities (NDTL), investment by banks in Government and other approved securities remained more or less at the previous year's level. Overall, the credit-deposit ratio of banks declined during the year as a result of continued strong growth in deposits combined with moderation in credit.

Net interest margins of banks continued to decline during the year, reflecting the increase in competitive pressures. However, sharp increase in non-interest income and subdued growth in operating costs resulted in sharp increase in net profits of SCBs during the year. Consequently, return on assets showed a marginal improvement in 2007-08. Despite increase in gross nonperforming assets (NPAs) in absolute terms during the year, asset quality (gross NPAs as percentage of gross loans and advances) of banks in general and of public sector banks in particular continued to improve. The capital to risk-weighted assets ratio of the banking sector also showed marked improvement during the year, both on account of large capital raised by banks from the capital market during 2007-08 and increase in reserves.

Liabilities and Assets of Scheduled Commercial Banks

The aggregate balance sheet of SCBs expanded by 25.0 per cent during 2007-08 as compared with 24.2 per cent in the previous year. The continued higher growth in assets of SCBs than the growth rate of the economy resulted in the increase in the ratio of assets of SCBs to GDP (at current market prices) to 91.8 per cent at end-March 2008 from 83.5 per cent at end-March 2007. As banks improved their capital base during 2007-08, the leverage (measured by the equity multiplier, which is defined as total assets divided by the total equity) of the banking system during the year declined significantly to 13.7 at end-March 2008 from 15.8 a year ago.

Growth of Balance Sheet of Scheduled Commercial Banks

The composition of assets of SCBs during 2007-08 remained more or less the same as in the previous year. On the liability side, the share of reserves and surplus increased, while that of deposits declined. Aggregate deposits of SCBs continued to show strong growth during 2007-08, though it was lower than the previous year. Capital and reserves grew at a significantly higher rate in 2007-08 in comparison with 2006-07. The growth rate of loans and advances moderated as compared with that in the previous year, partly reflecting the impact of measures taken by the Reserve Bank such as increase in cash reserve ratio (CRR), which, in turn, was reflected in the significant increase in cash and balances with the Reserve Bank. Banks' investments in Government securities grew at a much higher rate in comparison with the last year

Bank groups-wise analysis reveals that deposits of foreign sector banks grew at the highest rate (26.8 per cent). While deposits of public sector banks and new private sector banks showed a growth of 23.1 per cent each, old private sector banks' deposits increased by 19.8 per cent during 2007-08. Though the growth in deposits of old private sector banks was significantly higher than that in the previous year, their share in aggregate deposits of SCBs declined further, albeit marginally during 2007-08. The share of foreign banks in aggregate deposits increased marginally during 2007-08, while that of public and new private sector banks remained at the previous year's level

Sectoral Deployment of Bank Credit

The overall deceleration in bank credit during 2007-08 was reflected in the flow of credit to all the major sectors, barring the services sector. The deceleration was more pronounced in respect of agriculture and allied activities and personal loans, whereas credit to industry showed a marginal slowdown. Apart from general moderation of overall credit, drought in certain pockets of the country, lower demand for credit in anticipation of waiver under Debt Waiver Scheme, exclusion of loans to bodies such as Electricity Boards from the category of agricultural lending under the revised priority sector guidelines and lower investment credit may have contributed to the deceleration in credit to agriculture.

Retail Credit

Growth in retail credit by banks decelerated further during 2007-08 to 17.1 per cent from 29.9 per cent in 2006-07 and 40.9 per cent in 2005-06. It also remained lower than the growth in overall credit by the banking sector (23.2 per cent). As a result, the share of retail credit in total loans and advances declined to 24.5 per cent at end-March 2008 from 25.8 per cent at end-March 2007. Deceleration in the retail portfolio of banks was on account of decline in credit for consumer durables and deceleration in the growth of auto loans, housing loans and other personal loans. The outstanding amount under credit card receivables, however, increased by almost 50 per cent during 2007-08 reflecting the increase in the usage of credit cards for various payments.

Lending to sensitive sectors

SCBs lending to sensitive sectors (capital market, real estate and commodities) showed a significant deceleration during 2007-08, though it was marginally higher than the overall credit growth. Lending to real estate, which constituted 87.4 per cent of total lending to sensitive sectors, showed a significantly lower growth during 2007-08, partly on account of tightening of prudential norms by the Reserve Bank. The lending to capital market increased significantly during 2007-08. While exposure to commodities showed a significant growth, it remained relatively low. The Reserve Bank in its Annual Policy Statement for 2008-09 had advised banks to exercise caution while extending advances to traders in agricultural commodities to ensure that bank finance was not used for hoarding. Overall exposure of SCBs to sensitive sectors as percentage of aggregate bank loans remained at the previous year's level (20.6 per cent)

Investments and deposits of SCBs

Investments by banks recorded a high growth of 23.7 per cent in 2007-08 as compared with 9.7 per cent in 2006-07 and a decline of 0.4 per cent in 2005-06. This broadly reflected the pattern of banks' investment in SLR securities, which constitute the bulk of their investments. In relation to total assets of SCBs, the share of Government securities declined marginally to 21.4 per cent (27.8 per cent of NDTL) during 2007-08 from 21.8 per cent (27.9 per cent of NDTL) in the previous year whereas that of non-approved securities increased from 5.3 per cent as at end-March 2007 to 5.5 per cent as at end-March 2008.

Maturity Profile of Assets and Liabilities of Banks

The maturity structure of commercial banks' assets and liabilities at end-March 2008 remained broadly the same as in the previous year, barring minor variations. The share of deposits of up to one year maturity of all bank groups (barring new private sector banks) increased moderately, while that of other maturity buckets (1-3 years and 3-5 years) declined (except foreign banks whose share of deposits maturing between 3-5 years remained unchanged). The share of borrowings up to one year maturity increased across all bank groups (barring new private sector banks), with the increase being more pronounced in respect of public sector banks. The maturity pattern of loans and advances and investments of all bank groups remained broadly the same during 2007-08 as in the previous year. The share of loans and advances with up to one year maturity increased marginally in the case of all bank groups, barring foreign banks. Similar trend was observed in investments across all bank groups. On the whole, assets depicted a synchronous pattern with the liabilities. At end-March 2008, in general, public sector banks and old private sector banks had higher proportion of both liabilities and assets under longer maturity bucket. Furthermore, within the asset portfolio, while the maturity profile of loans and advances was nearly similar for all bank groups, barring foreign banks, investment pattern of new private sector banks and foreign banks was more tilted towards shorter term maturity profile.

Interest Rate scenario

Lending rates of SCBs across various bank groups showed a generally upward movement during the year. Deposit rates across bank groups showed a general decline during 2007-08, though foreign and private sector banks marginally increased their rates in some of the maturity maximum rate on term deposits of all maturities (25 to 50 basis points), while they increased the minimum rates for deposits of 1 to 3 years (100 basis points). Private sector banks increased the maximum rates for deposits up to one year (by 25 basis points) and over three years (by 15 basis points), while they reduced their interest rate on for deposits of one to three maturity (by 50 basis points). The minimum rates for deposits up to one year and over three years were reduced (by 50 basis points each) by private sector banks, while they were increased for deposits of one to three years (by 50 basis points). Foreign banks, on the other hand, reduced their minimum rates for deposits up to 1 year (by 75 basis points) and over 3 years (by 45 basis points). Interest rates offered by public sector banks on deposits of maturity of one year to three years were placed in the range of 8.25-9.25 per cent in March 2008 as compared with the range of 7.25-9.50 per cent a year ago, while those on deposits of maturity of above three years were placed in the range of 8.00-9.00 per cent in March 2008 as compared with the range of 7.50- 9.50 per cent a year ago. Similarly, interest rates offered by private sector banks on deposits of maturity of one year to three years were placed in the range of 7.25-9.25 per cent in March 2008 as compared with 6.75-9.75 per cent in March 2007, while those on deposits of maturity above three years were placed in the range of 7.25-9.75 per cent in March 2008 as compared with 7.75-9.60 per cent in March 2007. Interest rates offered by foreign banks on deposits of maturity of one year to three years were placed in the range of 3.50-9.75 per cent in March 2008 as compared with 3.50-9.50 per cent in March 2007.

Cost of Deposits and Return on Advances

Though the deposit rates showed a marginal decline between end-March 2007 and end-March 2008, the cost of deposits of SCBs increased by one percentage point as compared with that during the previous year. This essentially reflected the average cost of contracting deposits of different types and different maturities at different points in time. Thus, the rise in cost of deposits during 2007-08 partly reflected the increase in deposit rate during the previous year. Though the cost of deposits increased across all bank groups, the increase was more pronounced in the case of new private sector banks (1.2 percentage points). Owing to higher lending rates, return of advances of SCBs showed a significant improvement of one percentage point during the year with the improvement being observed across all bank groups. The increase was significantly higher in the case of new private sector banks (1.7 percentage points). Return on investments by SCBs, however, declined marginally during 2007-08 from the previous year's level mainly reflecting the prevailing financial markets conditions. The decline in return on investments was observed across all bank groups, barring new private sector banks which showed an increase of 0.8 percentage points. The improvement in the overall return on funds was lower than the increase in the cost of funds, leading to a decline of around 20 basis points in the spread (returns of funds over cost of funds) of banks during 2007-08.

Important Financial Indicators of Scheduled Commercial Banks

Overall income of SCBs during 2007-08 increased at a significantly higher rate of 34.3 per cent as compared with 24.4 per cent increase in the previous year. The income to assets ratio improved to 8.5 per cent after remaining unchanged at 7.9 per cent in the previous two years. Reflecting the higher lending rates, interest income of SCBs during 2007-08 increased by 33.6 per cent as compared with 25.0 per cent in the previous year.

'Other income' of SCBs during 2007-08 increased by 37.8 per cent as compared with 21.7 per cent during the previous year, reflecting the increasing diversification of sources of income by banks.

The difference between interest income and interest expenses, i.e., net interest income, is an important indicator of efficiency of the intermediation process by banks. Lower net interest income in relation to assets is an indicator of higher efficiency. Continuing the trend that began in 2004-05, net interest income (spread) of SCBs as percentage of total assets declined to 2.3 per cent in 2007-08 from 2.6 per cent in the previous year. Among the bank groups, net interest margin of foreign banks and private banks increased, while that of PSBs declined during 2007-08.

Asset Quality

The trend of improvement in the asset quality of banks continued during the year. Indian banks recovered a higher amount of NPAs during 2007-08 than that during the previous year. Though the total amount recovered and written-off at Rs.28,283 crore in 2007-08 was higher than Rs.26,243 crore in the previous year, it was lower than fresh addition of NPAs (Rs.34,420 crore) during the year. As a result, the gross NPAs of SCBs increased by Rs.6,136 crore in 2007-08. This is the first time since 2001-02 that gross NPAs increased in absolute terms. In this context, it may be noted that banks had registered rapid credit growth during the previous three years. Some slippage in NPAs, therefore, could be expected. Besides, some other developments such as hardening of interest rates might have also resulted in increased NPAs. Banks had extended housing loans at floating interest rates. The hardening of interest rates might have made the repayment of loans difficult for some borrowers, resulting in some increase in NPAs in this sector. It may be noted that the increase in gross NPAs was more noticeable in respect of new private sector and foreign banks, which have been more active in the real estate and housing loans segments. Gross NPAs (in absolute terms) of nationalised banks and old private sector banks continued to decline during the year. Gross NPAs of State Bank group showed an increase. Notwithstanding increase in gross NPAs of the banking sector, gross NPAs as percentage of gross advances declined further to 2.3 per cent at end-March 2008 from 2.5 per cent a year ago. The NPAs ratio (gross NPAs to gross advances) of new private sector banks increased significantly during the year, while that of foreign banks increased marginally. The NPAs ratio of all other bank groups declined.

Sector-wise NPAs

The sector-wise analysis of NPAs of public and private sector banks indicates that the NPAs in the priority sector increased by 11.1 per cent during 2007-08 (4.8 per cent in the previous year) mainly due to increase in NPAs in the agriculture sector (32.1 per cent) and in the non-priority sector (10.3 per cent). At the aggregate level, the share of priority sector NPAs in total NPAs at 54.4 per cent was broadly same as in the previous year (54.0 per cent).

Capital Adequacy

The overall CRAR of all SCBs improved to 13.0 per cent at end-March 2008 from 12.3 per cent a year ago, reflecting a relatively higher growth rate in capital funds maintained by banks than risk-weighted assets. While the growth in risk-weighted assets moderated in line with overall deceleration in credit growth during 2007-08, capital funds increased at a higher rate on account of raising of resources by banks from the capital market and increase in resources required for ensuing implementation of Basel II norms. Thus, the CRAR of the banking system at 13.0 per cent was significantly above the stipulated minimum of 9.0 per cent. 3.92 As a result of resources raised by banks from the capital market during 2007-08 and increase in reserves, the Tier I capital ratio of SCBs improved to 9.1 per cent at end-March 2008 from 8.3 per cent a year ago. However, the Tier II capital declined marginally to 3.9 per cent at end-March 2008 from 4.0 per cent a year ago (Chart III.19). Tier I CRAR was more than the present stipulated requirement of 4.5 per cent and also above the 6.0 per cent norm prescribed in the final guidelines for implementation of Basel II released by the Reserve Bank on April 27, 2007.

The service industry is no exception to the philosophy that competition enhances efficiency. The banking industry in India has been facing stiff competition after the opening up of economy and liberalization that led to the entry of the new generation banks and foreign banks. The old private sector banks in the country are exposed to the competition not only from the old private sector but also from new generation private sector banks, foreign banks and public sector banks apart from financial institutions.

LVB faces competition from the peer banks like Karur Vysya Bank, City Union Bank, Tamilnadu Mercantile Bank apart from the private sector banks South Indian Bank, Catholic Syrian Bank, Dhanalakshmi Bank from adjoining state of Kerala.

The basic objective of the competition policy of the bank is to avoid an unhealthy competition between peer banks. It is believed as a policy that the bank should grow in terms of quality rather than building mere volumes.

The competition policy of the bank with the peer banks would be:

- a. Image related i.e. through personalized services and enhancing corporate image. In order to overcome the competition with peer banks, the bank has laid stress on personalized services and improved corporate image through publicity, advertisement etc.
- b. Market related i.e. products (new and existing), customers (new and existing), distribution (new and existing) apart from competitive pricing and constant watch on the market over the peer banks to align our strategy on resource mobilization front.
- c. The HR related competitive policy with emphasis on training and skill development.
- d. Strengthening credit appraisal system, credit management including credit delivery and strengthening of control systems and procedures.
- e. Technology related through efficient and effective customer service, cost reduction, management information system and decision support system.
- f. Another aspect of competitive policy is finance related through strengthening of balance sheet, product performance and risk management.

The competitive policy of the bank lays further emphasis on

- a. To introduce innovative products on par with the competitors to retain the existing clientele and to improve the business mix
- b. In tune with the changing priorities, the bank focus to achieve total customer satisfaction by immediate response to their genuine banking needs, thereby retain the existing clientele and also to prospective customers from the peer group in the field.
- c. Simplified procedures.
- d. Aggressive Branch expansion by establishing branches in the vital tier II and III locations where the potential is untapped and available in plenty and establishing specialized branches has been initiated to have a competitive advantage for the bank

- e. Bank is in the process of opening central processing cell to centralized account opening and welcome kit containing ATM card, cheque book, pin mailer for internet banking etc. in a single pack as being done by new generation private sector banks, so as to attract the youth also

Approvals

Credit Approval Authority and Procedures

The Bank adopts stringent standards of appraisal for its advances. The various levels of authorities are vested with discretionary powers to sanction credit limits as per the scheme of delegation of lending powers. Detailed guidelines have been formulated to appraise, sanction and monitor the credit proposals.

The RBI guidelines on credit risk management require that large value loans beyond a specified cutoff level may be approved through a grid or committee system. In line with the RBI guidelines, all proposals falling beyond the lending powers of COO (i.e. proposals coming under the lending powers of the MD and the Management Committee of the Board) are being pre – cleared by the Credit Committee of Executives (CCE) for sanction by the respective sanctioning authorities. The CCE consists of (a) Chief Operating Officer as Chairman (b) Chief Financial Officer (c) General Manager (Credit) (d) Dy. General Manager (credit) (e) Dy. General Manager (Risk Management) as members.

The credit limits sanctioned by one layer of authority is being reviewed by the next higher layer authority and any comments / observations of higher authority are taken up for rectification.

Credit Risk Assessment

As per the RBI guidelines DBOD.NO.BP.BC 11/21.06.2001/2008-09 dated 01.07.2008 all the banks in India are required to assess the credit risk in their credit portfolio based on the standardized approach under Basel II. Under their standardized approach, the entire credit portfolio has been classified into various credit exposures like claims on sovereigns, claims on public sector entities, claims on retail regulatory etc. Each exposure is assigned with specific risk weights based on the ratings assigned by the external rating agencies. Further credit risk mitigants are permitted while assessing the capital adequacy ratio under this methodology.

Market Risk

The assessment of capital required for market risk is done using the standardized duration approach. The bank's market risk arises from interest rate related instruments and equities in trading book and foreign exchange risk (including open position in precious metals) throughout the bank (both banking and trading books). The capital charge for market risk is assessed for three risk factors i.e. Interest rate risk, equity risk, and Foreign exchange risk. The bank does not have exposure to commodities. The minimum capital requirement for interest rate risk and equity is expressed in terms of two separately calculated charges (i) Specific charge and (ii) General Market risk.

Corporate Finance Procedures

With regard to finance to corporate borrowers, the Bank follows the assessment systems prescribed by RBI for determining the level of credit. In respect of these borrowers, the Bank may also consider other suitable assessment methods based on projected monthly/quarterly cash budget etc., which will involve extending the necessary finance to bridge the periodic deficits arising during the course of the unit's operations. The Bank also considers extending working capital finance to such units by way of corporate loans, short and medium term working capital loans, FCNR(B) loans, purchase bill/invoice bill discounting facilities, lines of credit, borrower-specific structured financing products and other suitable financing products/instruments in line with the emerging market. In such cases, the Bank may also consider extending finance under the consortium arrangement, multiple banking or syndicated credit arrangements, to limit the Bank's exposure to the desired level, and to share the lending risks and responsibilities for post sanction supervision with other banks.

Project Finance procedures

Lending to large infrastructure projects is generally taken up through consortium banking or syndicated credit arrangements. In taking up project financing or infrastructure financing, the bank prefers lending to projects appraised and supported by reputed large banks or term lending institutions.

In respect of credit proposals involving Term Loan or DPG facilities for higher amounts normally of Rs.5 crores or above, the Bank may require project appraisal or techno-economic viability study by external consultants, where the proposal involves new projects or where new technology, processes or industry/activity is involved. If considered necessary such techno-economic viability study by external consultants may be required in the cases of existing and time tested borrowers considered to possess already the necessary competence or where the project involves only the expansion of the existing capacity. Similarly, in the cases of Term Loans extended for projects, the Bank may require monitoring by Lender's Independent Engineers/external consultants and/or prescribe suitable Project Implementation Progress Reports for monitoring the end use of funds and implementation of the project.

Retail Loan procedures

The Bank offers home loans, home improvement loans, home furnishing loans, consumer durable loans, two and four wheeler vehicle loans, personal loans and educational loans in the form of standardised products. The terms and conditions, procedures for appraisal/assessment, sanction and post sanction monitoring of these loan facilities have been standardised in the respective circulars issued for such schemes

Write Off Policy

A number of small loans extended by the Bank including loans to weaker section of the society under various Government Sponsored Schemes were pending for a long time due to various reasons such as whereabouts of the borrower were not known, inability of the borrowers to repay the loan etc. In some cases the outstanding amount being very small legal action was not considered desirable. In spite of the best efforts taken, the Branch could not recover the dues from the above said accounts in the normal course. Such accounts shall normally be considered for write-off.

While writing off, the following qualifying factors were taken into account:

1. The borrowal account has been classified as "Loss Asset".
2. No lapses on part of the staff.
3. Whenever loans are written-off in compliance to the norms specified already, a comprehensive note is placed to the Board and approval is obtained.

Further, provisioning is made duly adhering to RBI norms.

Since the technical write off is done only to the extent of provision already made or to the extent of loss asset, this will not have any impact on the operating profit in the balance sheet.

The details of assets actually written off though there are pending litigations such matters are furnished below:

NPA Management Strategy

The NPA cash recovery target for the year 2008-2009 was fixed at Rs. 70.00 crores whereas the actual recovery made upto is Rs. 63.19 crores. The Bank is utilizing the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest (SARFAESI) Act, 2002 as an effective tool. Senior level executives visit the regions to take decisions on the spot for One Time Settlement (OTS)/ Out-of-court settlement (OCS). Second Level executives are allotted responsibility for NPA recovery.

As regards revamping of recovery mechanism we would like to add that as an ongoing exercise and also with a view to enable us to have a focused approach for recovery, the Bank has been adopting various measures. Further, to accelerate the recoveries and reduction of NPAs, the Bank has inter-alia continue to adopt the following strategies:-

1. Visiting the Branches (by Executives / Officers from A.O.), where the NPA position is high and meeting the defaulting parties directly, in order to gear up the recovery efforts.
2. Wherever possible, settling the NPA accounts by direct compromise /through Lok Adalats to the advantage of the Bank within the Policy parameters.
3. Continuing the recovery follow-up and trying for recovery even in the case of written-off small loan accounts and other bad debts/ Loss assets.
4. Following-up with the Advocates of the suit filed accounts including the decreed debt accounts towards execution proceedings on a continuous basis.
5. Motivating the other Staff in the Branch to involve in the follow-up and recovery of NPA accounts / irregular accounts and recognizing the successful efforts made by them in the recovery process, by placing on record their positive contribution and issuing appreciation letters.
6. Handling one period / session in every program conducted by our STC on 'Recovery Management', 'Legal aspects of Banking', 'Management of NPAs' etc.

7. The Large and Medium NPAs are targeted for monitoring and recovery by the Executives at the Administrative Office and the Divisional Offices.
8. Recovery for 2008-2009 was fixed at Rs.70.00 crores for the Divisional Offices. After restructuring, DGM (R&L) has been exclusively entrusted with the job of upgradation of Sub-Std NPA accounts.
9. To improve the recovery follow-up in suit filed/decreed cases, Law Officer and Advocate's meets are conducted. And the Executives / Officers of the Recovery & Legal Department during their visits to Branches meet the Panel Advocate handling the cases.
10. Steps are taken to expedite the recovery process in the case of suit filed accounts by bringing pressure on the parties, by filing applications for the advancing of the hearing dates, for Attachment Before Judgment in respect of the assets of the parties, for appointment of Commissioner / Receiver to dispose of the mortgaged securities even during the pendency of the cases etc.
11. Wherever necessary the borrowers are called at A.O. for meeting with top-level Executives including the Managing Director, in order to expedite/explore the recovery through amicable settlements.
12. The Bank's Recovery Policy has been thoroughly reviewed and revised and a new Corporate Compromise Policy has been introduced facilitating hassle free settlements. Adequate powers have been delegated to the Divisional Heads also and within the parameters of the recovery policy, the Settlement Proposals are entertained and considered based on the merits of the individual cases.
13. NPA Review Committee meeting of the Executives headed by Managing Director are held every month to review the NPA accounts having balance O/s Rs.15.00 lacs and above and immediate action is initiated as per directions of Committee.
14. For managing the NPAs, besides various Administrative measures, Top level intervention including the Board, is also sought for, wherever needed. The meeting of NPA Review Committee of the Board is held every quarter to review the NPA position and give suitable directions to the Administration.
15. It is well known that Banks had been persistent in their demand to take effective measures for recovery of the huge impaired assets, by implementing stringent legal measures. Now that the Government has come out with a new legislation – Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002 which came into force on 21.06.02. Sequel to this, our Board has directed the Administration to take all necessary steps for effectively exercising the rights under the provisions of the Act and constructively use the same towards NPA recovery follow-up. Thus we have issued the 60 day Statutory Demand Notices in respect of 915 borrowal accounts as on 31.03.2009 involving Rs. 229.44 crores. In 648 cases, a total amount of Rs. 90.67 crores have been recovered and out of this, 359 cases have been settled involving a recovery of Rs.60.48 crores.
16. Lok Adalat exclusively for LVB cases have been convened at till date at various places and we could settle 322 cases involving a recovery of Rs. 6.47 crores.

In line with the international practices and as per the recommendations made by the Committee on the Financial System (Chairman Shri M. Narasimham), the Reserve Bank of India has introduced, in a phased manner, prudential norms for income recognition, asset classification and provisioning for the advances portfolio of the banks so as to move towards greater consistency and transparency in the published accounts. Accordingly the Reserve Bank of India has revised from time to time prudential norms for assets classification and income recognition. Under the existing prudential norms, loan assets are broadly classified into 2 categories namely performing and non-performing. Performing assets are those on which the Bank recovers interest charges/installments of principal amount within a period of 90 days from the due date. The loan account in which irregularity regarding payment of principal or interest continues for a period beyond 90 days are classified as non-performing assets (NPAs).

The NPAs are further classified depending upon the period of delinquency and availability of tangible security as follows:

	Category	Definition
A.	Performing Standard Assets	An asset which is currently performing and in respect of which interest and principal payments are received regularly and where arrears of interest and principal, if any, do not exceed 90 days from the due date.
B.	Non Performing Assets	A non-performing asset (NPA) shall be a loan or an advance where interest and/or installment of principal remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days. Further banks are required to classify non-performing into the following three categories based on the period for which the asset has remained non-performing and the realisability of dues:
	i. Sub-standard assets	With effect from March 31,2005, a substandard asset is one which has been an NPA for a period less than or equal to 12 months.
	ii. Doubtful assets	With effect from March 31,2005 a doubtful asset is one which has remained substandard category for 12 months.

iii. Loss assets	A loss asset is one where loss has been identified by the bank or internal or external auditors or the RBI inspection but the amount has not been written off wholly.
------------------	---

When an account is classified as an NPA, interest already debited to the account is de-recognised and further interest accrued is on cash basis.

Provisions are arrived on all outstanding advances, as under:

- Standard Assets: The banks should make a general provision of a minimum of 0.40 percent on standard assets on global loan portfolio basis.
- Sub-standard Assets: A general provision of 10 percent on total outstanding should be made without making any allowance for DICGC/ECGC guarantee cover and securities available. The 'unsecured exposures' which are identified as 'substandard' would attract additional provision of 10 per cent, i.e., a total of 20 per cent on the outstanding balance.
- Doubtful Assets: Unsecured Assets – 100% of the outstanding amount - Secured Assets – provision may be made on the following basis, at the rates ranging from 20 percent to 100 percent of the secured portion depending upon the period for which the asset has remained doubtful

Period for which advance has remained in Doubtful category	Provision requirement (%)
Up to one year	20
One to three years	30
More than three years	100

- Loss Assets: The entire asset should be written off. If the assets are permitted to remain in the Books for any reason, 100 percent of the outstanding should be provided for.

Note

Bank's ability to meet the liability on maturity needs to be ensured managing its liquidity on a dynamic basis to avoid adverse situation. Bank management measures liquidity position on an ongoing basis and also under crisis scenario. The liquidity has been tracked through maturity or cash flow mismatches. For measuring and managing net funding requirements, the assets and liabilities are plotted using maturity ladders. The outflows, inflows and the mismatches under each maturity are measured on daily basis. As a measure of liquidity management, banks are required to monitor their cumulative mismatches across all maturities/time buckets in an RBI prescribed Statement of Structural Liquidity by establishing prudential limits for the mismatches in the time buckets which are within the prescribed limits and do not envisage any significant adverse impact.

Minimum requirement of Capital Funds

Banks were required to maintain a minimum capital to Risk weighted Assets Ratio (CRAR) Norm of 9 percent on an ongoing basis up to the year ending March 1999. As a measure of abundant caution, RBI requires the Bank to maintain CRAR of 1-12% at any point of time.

To maintain uniform credit growth and stipulated CRAR throughout fiscal 2010, Bank requires additional capital. Hence the Bank has decided to augment its Tier I capital base.

The Bank has also raised Tier II Capital by way of private placement of unsecured, redeemable bonds in the nature of promissory notes/ debentures to augment capital adequacy as under:

Risk Weighted Assets

Both under Basel I and II, Each class of assets of the Bank (including off-balance sheet assets) is assigned a risk weight (following certain norms laid down by RBI). The value of risk weighted assets for each class of assets is obtained by multiplying the amount of each asset class by its risk weight. The total risk weighted assets are obtained by summing up the individual risk weighted assets. The Bank has implemented the Basel II norm with effect from March 31, 2009.

An International Committee of Banking Regulations and Supervisory Practices of the BIS released an agreed framework on international convergence of CAR for commercial Banks. The minimum CAR was set at 8%. The capital adequacy norms are to be enforced by the Banking Supervisory Authority of the respective country. RBI being the Central Bank of the country had issued guidelines and prescribed that Indian Banks should achieve CAR of 9%, by March 31, 2000.

Capital Adequacy Position of the Bank

The Capital Adequacy Ratio (“CAR”) of the Bank as on March 31, 2009 was 10.09% as against the RBI stipulation of 9.00%. Details of capital vis-à-vis risk weighted assets are as under:

Events after last rights issue

The rights issue of 2007 was made with the object of

- To improve the capital adequacy ratio by augmenting Tier I capital
- To augment long term financial resources and

Risk Management

The bank has adopted suitable risk management practices for managing market risk, credit risk and operational risk taking into consideration the volume and nature of business activities.

The Integrated Risk Management Committee of the Board ensures that risks are appropriately managed in the Bank. The policies put in by the Bank help to meet the dynamic challenges in the external and internal environments in which the Bank operates and also to comply with the regulatory requirements. The present capital adequacy ratio places the bank in a satisfactory level as per Basel II norms.

During the current year the bank migrated to Basel II as per RBI guidelines and calculated capital adequacy ratios under Basel II. The bank is maintaining CRAR well above the minimum level of 9%. Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process (ICAAP) document has been prepared for the bank as per RBI guidelines.

Risk Management Committee

The Integrated Risk Management Committee constituted as per RBI guidelines, formulates Bank's Credit, Operational and Market risk policies and reviews the Assets and Liabilities of the Bank based on the daily structural liquidity and dynamic liquidity statements on outflows and inflows and also periodically analyze the interest rate sensitivity of assets and liabilities.

Besides to monitor the asset quality rating transition matrix was analyzed and advises the functional departments to take corrective steps to protect the asset quality, wherever necessary.

Credit Risk Assessment

The Bank prescribes minimum borrower standards in terms of parameters such as Credit Rating (for smaller credit) or Credit Risk Assessment Grade (for larger credit), Debt-Equity Ratio (TOL/TNW), margins on assets financed, Debt Service Coverage Ratio, Current Ratio, etc.

The "Credit Risk Assessment" (CRA) system was developed in 2004 in consultation with ICRA and was introduced in the same year as part of credit risk management systems in the Bank, providing a framework for objective risk assessment. The system takes into account risk parameters under the following four broad categories:

- (a) Financial risk parameters
- (b) Management risk parameters
- (c) Industry risk parameters, and
- (d) Risks evidenced by the account operations

The goal of credit risk management is to ensure that it is within the acceptable risk appetite & tolerance limit set by the management.

Information Technology

KEY REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

The main legislation governing commercial banks in India is the Banking Regulation Act, 1949. Other important laws include RBI Act, the Negotiable Instruments Act and the Banker's Books Evidence Act. Additionally, RBI, from time to time, issues guidelines to be followed by banks. Compliance with all regulatory requirements is evaluated with respect to financial statements under Indian GAAP. Banking companies are also subject to the purview of the Companies Act and if such companies are listed on a stock exchange in India then various regulations of SEBI would additionally apply to such companies.

Reserve Bank of India Regulations

Commercial banks in India are required under the Banking Regulation Act to obtain a license from RBI to carry on banking business in India. Before granting the license, RBI must be satisfied that certain conditions are complied with, including (i) that the bank has the ability to pay its present and future depositors in full as their claims accrue; (ii) that the affairs of the bank will not be or are not likely to be conducted in a manner detrimental to the interests of present or future depositors; (iii) that the bank has adequate capital and earnings prospects; and (iv) that the public interest will be served if such license is granted to the bank. RBI can cancel the license if the bank fails to meet the above conditions or if the bank ceases to carry on banking operations in India.

We, being licensed as a banking company are regulated and supervised by RBI. RBI requires us to furnish statements, information and certain details relating to our business. It has issued guidelines for commercial banks on recognition of income, classification of assets, valuation of investments, maintenance of capital adequacy and provisioning for non-performing assets. RBI has set up a Board for Financial Supervision, under the chairmanship of the Governor of RBI. The appointment of the auditors of banks is subject to the approval of RBI. RBI can direct a special audit in the interest of the depositors or in the public interest.

Regulations relating to the Opening of Branches

Section 23 of the Banking Regulation Act provides that banks must obtain the prior approval of RBI to open new branches. Permission is granted based on factors such as the financial condition and history of the banking company, its management, adequacy of capital structure and earning prospects and the public interest. RBI may cancel the license for violations of the conditions under which it was granted. A rural area is defined as a center with a population of less than 10,000. A semi-urban area is defined as a center with a population of greater than 10,000 but less than 100,000. These population figures relate to the 2001 census conducted by the Government of India. In September 2005, RBI issued a new branch authorization policy in terms of which the system of granting authorizations for opening individual branches from time to time was replaced by a system of aggregated approvals on an annual basis. RBI discusses with individual banks their branch expansion strategies and plans over the medium term. The term "branch" for this purpose has been defined to also include extension counters, administrative offices and back offices. While processing authorization requests, RBI gives importance to the nature and scope of banking services particularly in under-banked areas, actual credit flow to the priority sector and efforts to promote financial inclusion, the need to induce enhanced competition in the banking sector, the bank's regulatory compliance, quality of governance, risk management and relationships with subsidiaries and affiliates.

Capital Adequacy Requirements

The Bank is subject to the capital adequacy requirements as specified by RBI from time to time. The Bank has to maintain a minimum ratio of capital to riskweighted assets of 9.0%, at least 6% of risk weighted assets must be Tier I capital.

The total capital of a bank is classified into Tier I and Tier II capital. Tier I capital, the core capital, provides the most permanent and readily available support against unexpected losses. It comprises paid-up capital and reserves consisting of any statutory reserves, free reserves and capital reserves, pursuant to the Indian Income Tax Act, as reduced by equity investments in subsidiaries, intangible assets, gaps in provisioning, and losses in the current period and brought forward from the previous period. In fiscal year 2003, the RBI issued guidelines requiring a bank's deferred tax asset to be treated as an intangible asset and deducted from its Tier I capital. Tier II capital consists of undisclosed reserves, revaluation reserves (at a discount of 55.0%), general provisions and loss reserves (allowed up to a maximum of 1.25% of riskweighted assets), hybrid debt capital instruments (which combine certain features of both equity and debt securities) and subordinated debt. Any subordinated debt is subject to progressive discounts each year during the last five years of the tenure for inclusion in Tier II capital and total subordinated debt considered as Tier II capital cannot exceed 50.0% of Tier I capital. Total Tier II capital cannot exceed Tier I capital.

With a view to providing banks with additional options to raise capital funds, the RBI, by a circular dated January 25, 2006, authorised the issue of instruments such as (i) Innovative Perpetual Debts Instruments ("IPDIs") as part of Tier I capital and (ii) Upper Tier II subordinated debt as part of Tier II capital.

As per these guidelines, IPDIs have a call option after not less than ten years from the date of issue, to be exercised with the RBI's prior approval, for inclusion as Tier I capital up to a maximum of 15.0% of total unimpaired non-innovative Tier I capital. Upper Tier II instruments have a minimum maturity of 15 years and a call option after not less than ten years from the date of issue, to be exercised with the RBI's prior approval, for inclusion as Tier II capital. On July 21, 2006, the RBI also issued guidelines permitting the issuance of Tier I and Tier II debt instruments denominated in foreign currencies to the extent of and subject to the conditions stipulated therein.

Risk-adjusted assets and off-balance sheet items considered for determining the capital adequacy ratio are the risk weighted total of specified funded and non-funded exposures. Degrees of credit risk expressed as percentage weighting have been assigned to various balance sheet asset items and for off-balance sheet items. In respect of off balance sheet exposure, the percentage risk-weightage is made with the appropriate credit conversion factor. The book value of each item is multiplied by the relevant weight and/ or conversion factor to produce risk-adjusted values of assets and off-balance sheet items. Standby letters of credit or guarantees and documentary credits are treated as similar to funded exposure and are subject to similar risk weight. All foreign exchange and gold open position limits carry a 100.0% risk weight. Capital requirements have also been prescribed for open foreign currency exposures and open positions in gold.

In June 2004, the RBI issued guidelines requiring banks to maintain a capital charge for market risk in respect of:

- securities included in the held for trading category (including derivatives) w.e.f March 31, 2005; and
- securities included in the available for sale category by w.e.f March 31, 2006.

Currently, held-to-maturity securities are not marked to market and are carried at acquisition cost or at an amortised cost if acquired at a premium over the face value. Securities classified as available for sale or held for trading are valued at market or fair value as of the balance sheet date. The aggregate risk-weighted assets are taken into account for determining the capital adequacy ratio. Accordingly, the Bank has provided a capital charge for market risk on the securities included in the trading book, as per the standardized duration method.

In April 2007, the RBI issued final guidelines for the implementation of the revised capital adequacy framework of the Basel Committee ("Basel II framework"). These guidelines specify that foreign banks operating in India and Indian banks having an operational presence outside India should migrate to the Basel II framework by adopting the Standardised Approach for credit risk and the Basic Indicator Approach for operational risk with effect from March 31, 2008. All other commercial banks (except local area banks and regional rural banks) are encouraged to migrate to the Basel II framework no later than March 31, 2009 by adopting one of these approaches, as appropriate these approaches. After adequate expertise has been developed, both at the banks and at the supervisory level, some banks may be allowed to migrate to the Internal Ratings based approach after obtaining RBI approval. The guidelines also prescribe a 75.0% risk weight for retail credit exposures, differential risk weights for other credit exposures linked to their credit rating, and a capital charge for operational risk based on a factor of 15.0% of the sum of a bank's previous three year average net interest income and non-interest income (excluding extraordinary income). The RBI has, in January 2008, decided that educational loans will no longer qualify as consumer credit and carry a risk weight of 100% under the Basel I framework and 75% under the Basel II framework.

Issuance of Preference Shares as Part of Regulatory Capital

With a view to providing banks with a wider choice of instruments to raise Tier I and Tier II capital, the RBI, through its circular dated October 29, 2007, permitted the issue of preference shares in Indian Rupees. The said circular provides, inter alia, that preference shares shall be eligible for inclusion in Tier I or Tier II capital as set out below:

Tier I capital:

- the outstanding amount of Tier I preference shares along with innovative Tier I instruments must not exceed 40% of total Tier I capital;
- the shares shall be perpetual non-cumulative preference shares and shall be fully paid up, unsecured and free of restrictive clauses;

- the shares shall be issued without a put or step-up option; however, a call option is permitted provided it is exercisable only after a period of ten years and with the prior approval of the RBI;
- no dividend may be declared if the Bank's CRAR is below (or is caused by the payment to fall below) the minimum stipulated CRAR or if the half yearly (for a half yearly dividend) or current year's balance sheet shows accumulated losses; and
- the dividend shall not be cumulative, for example a dividend missed in one year will not be paid in future years, even if adequate profit is available and the level of CRAR conforms to the regulatory minimum.

Tier II capital:

- the outstanding amount of these instruments, along with other components of Tier II capital, must not exceed 100% of Tier I capital at any point in time;
- the shares may be perpetual cumulative preference shares, redeemable non-cumulative preference shares or redeemable cumulative preference shares and shall be fully paid up, unsecured and free of any restrictive clauses;
- the period of maturity for redeemable non-cumulative preference shares and redeemable cumulative preference shares shall be at least 15 years;
- Shares shall be issued without a put option; a call option, however, is permitted provided such option is exercisable only after a period of ten years and with the prior approval of the RBI. A step-up option may be exercised only once during the term of the instrument and must not exceed 100 basis points;
- the coupon rate payable should be a fixed or floating rate referenced to a market determined Rupee interest benchmark rate and will not be payable if the Bank's CRAR is below (or is caused by the payment to fall below) 9% or if the Bank suffers a net loss; and
- redemption shall not be at the initiative of the holder and shall only be made with the prior approval of the RBI, even at maturity.

The Redeemable Preference Shares (both cumulative and non-cumulative) shall be subjected to a progressive discount for capital adequacy purposes over the last five years of their tenor, as they approach maturity.

Loan Loss Provisions and Non-Performing Assets

In April 1992, RBI issued formal guidelines on income recognition, asset classification, provisioning standards and valuation of investments, which are revised from time to time.

RBI guidelines stipulate the criteria for determining and classifying a non-performing asset set forth below:

Asset Classification

An asset, including a leased asset, becomes non-performing when it ceases to generate income for the Bank. An NPA is an asset in respect of which either the principal or interest remains overdue for more than 90 days.

An NPA is a loan or an advance where:

- interest and/or the instalment of principal has remained overdue for a period of more than 90 days in respect of a term loan;
- the account has remained "out-of-order" (as defined below) in respect of an overdraft or cash credit for more than 90 days;
- the bill has remained overdue for a period of more than 90 days in the case of purchased and discounted bills;
- the installment of principal or interest thereon remains overdue for two crop seasons for short duration crops,
- the installment of principal or interest thereon remains overdue one crop season for long duration crops, and
- any amount to be received remains overdue for a period of more than 90 days in respect of other accounts.

Once an account has been classified as a non-performing asset, the unrealised interest and other income already debited to the account is de-recognised and further interest is not recognised or credited to the income account unless collected.

“Out of Order” Status

An account should be treated as “out-of-order” if the outstanding balance remains continuously in excess of the sanctioned drawing limit. In circumstances where the outstanding balance in the principal operating account is less than the sanctioned drawing limit, but (i) there are no credits continuously for a period of 90 days as of the date the balance sheet of the bank or (ii) the credits are not sufficient to cover the interest debited during the same period, these accounts should be treated as “out-of-order”.

Non-performing assets are classified as described below.

Sub-Standard Assets: Assets that are non-performing assets for a period not exceeding 12 months. In such cases, the current net worth of the borrower/guarantor or the current market value of the security charged is not enough to ensure recovery of dues to the banks in full. Such an asset has well-defined credit weaknesses that jeopardize the liquidation of the debt and are characterized by the distinct possibility that the bank will sustain some loss, if deficiencies are not corrected.

Doubtful Assets: Assets that are non-performing assets for more than 12 months. A loan classified as doubtful has all the weaknesses inherent in assets that are classified as sub-standard, with the added characteristic that the weaknesses make collection or liquidation in full, on the basis of currently known facts, conditions and values, highly questionable and improbable.

Loss Assets: Assets on which losses have been identified by the bank or internal or external auditors or RBI inspection but the amount has not been written off fully.

There are separate guidelines for projects under implementation which are based on the achievement of financial closure and the date of approval of the project financing.

RBI also has separate guidelines for restructured loans. A fully secured restructured standard asset can be restructured by rescheduling principal repayments and/or the interest element, but must be separately disclosed as a restructured asset. A rescheduling of the instalments of principal amount alone does not result in a standard asset being classified as substandard provided the loan/credit facility is fully secured. The amount of sacrifice, if any, in the element of interest, measured in present value terms, is either written off or provision is made to the extent of the sacrifice involved. Similar guidelines are applicable to substandard assets. A rescheduling of interest shall not result in an asset being downgraded to sub-standard, provided that the amount of sacrifice, measured in present value terms, is written off or provision is made to the extent of the sacrifice involved. Similar guidelines apply to sub-standard assets. The sub-standard accounts which have been subjected to restructuring by whatever modality, whether in respect of the principal instalment or interest amount, are eligible to be upgraded to the standard category only after the specified period, i.e., a period of one year after the date when first payment of interest or of principal, whichever is earlier, falls due, subject to satisfactory performance during the period. RBI has issued separate guidelines concerning debt-restructuring mechanisms for small and medium enterprises. To put in place an institutional mechanism for the restructuring of corporate debt, the RBI has devised a corporate debt restructuring system.

Provisioning and Write-Offs

Provisions are made based on guidelines specific to the classification of the assets. The following guidelines apply to the various asset classifications:

Standard Assets: A general provision of 0.25% is required to Agri and SME advances. A general provision of 0.40% is required to other advances.

Sub-Standard Assets: A general provision of 10.0% of the total outstanding and an additional 10.0% total outstanding on the "unsecured exposures" identified as "Substandard" (i.e. the total provisioning on the unsecured exposures shall be 20.0%). For purposes of this classification, an unsecured exposure is one where the realizable value of security is not more than 10.0%, ab initio, of the outstanding exposure. Also "exposure" shall include both funded and non-funded exposure.

Doubtful Assets: Provision at 100.0% of the extent to which the advance is not covered by the realisable value of security. With regard to the secured portion, provision is to be made as set out below:

Period for which advance remained in "Doubtful" category	Provisioning requirement (%)
Up to one year	20.0%
One to three years	30.0%
More than three years	100.0%

Banks are, however, permitted to provide the additional provisioning, required due to the reduction in the transition period from "sub-standard" to "doubtful asset," from 18 to 12 months over a four year period commencing from the year ending March 31, 2005, with a minimum of 20.0% each year.

Loss Assets: The entire asset shall be written off. However, if, for any reason whatsoever, the asset is retained on the books, a 100.0% provision shall be made on the outstanding amount.

Restructured Loans: The amount of sacrifice, if any, in the element of interest, measured in present value terms, is either written off or provision is made to the extent of the sacrifice involved.

In June 2006, RBI issued prudential norms on creation and utilization of floating provisions (i.e., provisions which are not made in respect of specific non-performing assets or are made in excess of regulatory requirements for provisions for standard assets). The norms state that floating provisions can be used only for contingencies under extraordinary circumstances for making specific provisions in impaired accounts after obtaining approval from the Board of Directors and with the prior permission of RBI. In March 2007, RBI issued a guideline stating that extra-ordinary circumstances refer to losses which do not arise in the normal course of business and are exceptional and non-recurring in nature. The extra-ordinary circumstances have been broadly classified into three categories, namely General, Market and Credit. General category includes situations where a bank is put unexpectedly to loss due to events such as civil unrest or collapse of currency in a country. Natural calamities and pandemics may also be included in the General category. Market category would include events such as a general melt down in the markets, which affects the entire financial system. Among the Credit category only exceptional credit losses would be considered as an extra-ordinary circumstance. Floating provisions for advances and investments would be held separately and cannot be reversed by credit to the profit and loss account. Until utilization of such provisions, they can be netted off from gross non-performing assets to arrive at disclosure of net non-performing assets. Alternatively, floating provisions can be treated as part of Tier II capital within the overall ceiling of 1.25% of total risk-weighted assets. Floating provisions do not include specific voluntary provisions made by banks for advances which are higher than the minimum provision stipulated by RBI guidelines.

Regulations relating to Making Loans

The provisions of the Banking Regulation Act govern the making of loans by banks in India. RBI issues directions covering the loan activities of banks. Some of the major guidelines of RBI, which are now in effect, are as follows:

- RBI has prescribed norms for bank lending to non-bank financial companies and financing of public sector disinvestment.
- Banks are free to determine their own lending rates but each bank must declare its prime lending rate as approved by its Board of Directors. Banks are required to declare a benchmark prime lending rate based on various parameters including cost of funds, non-interest expense, capital charge and profit margin. Each bank should also indicate the maximum spread over the prime lending rate for all credit exposures other than retail loans. The interest charged by banks on advances up to Rs. 2 lakhs to any one entity (other than certain permitted types of loans including loans to individuals for acquiring residential property, loans for purchase of consumer durables and other non-priority sector personal loans) must not exceed the benchmark prime lending rate. Banks are also given freedom to lend at a rate below the prime lending rate in respect of creditworthy borrowers and exposures. Banks are also free to stipulate lending rates without reference to their own benchmark prime lending rates in respect of certain specified categories of loan.
- Section 21A of the Banking Regulation Act provides that the rate of interest charged by a bank shall not be reopened by any court on the ground that the rate of interest charged by a bank is excessive. In May 2007, RBI notified that the boards of banks should lay down internal principles and procedures so that interest rates charged by banks are in conformity with normal banking prudence and are not usurious. The Banking Regulation Act provides for protection to banks for interest rates charged by them.
- In terms of Section 20(1) of the Banking Regulation Act, a bank cannot grant any loans and advances against the security of its own shares, a banking company is prohibited from entering into any commitment for granting any loans or advances to or on behalf of any of its directors, or any firm in which any of its directors is interested as partner, manager, employee or guarantor, or any company (not being a subsidiary of the banking company or a company registered under Section 25 of the Companies Act, 1956, or a government company) of which, or the subsidiary or the holding company of which any of the directors of the bank is a director, managing agent, manager, employee or guarantor or in which he holds substantial interest, or any individual in respect of whom any of its directors is a partner or guarantor. There are certain exemptions in this regard as the explanation to the section provides that 'loans or advances' shall not include any transaction which RBI may specify by general or special order as not being a loan or advance for the purpose of such section.

There are guidelines on loans against equity shares in respect of amount, margin requirement and purpose.

In June 2005, RBI issued guidelines requiring banks to put in place a policy for exposure to real estate with the approval of their boards. The policy is required to include exposure limits, collaterals to be considered, collateral cover and margins and credit authorization. RBI has also permitted banks to extend financial assistance to Indian companies for acquisition of equity in overseas joint ventures or wholly owned subsidiaries or in other overseas companies, new or existing, as strategic investment. Banks are not permitted to finance acquisitions by companies in India.

Corporate Debt Restructuring Mechanism

In order to put in place as institutional mechanism for the restructuring of corporate debt, the RBI devised a Corporate Debt Restructuring ("CDR") System, guidelines pertaining to which were issued on August 23, 2001. Subsequently, detailed guidelines were issued of February 5, 2003. The objective of this framework is to ensure a timely and transparent mechanism for the restructuring of corporate debts of viable entities facing problems, but outside the purview of the Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction, debt recovery tribunals and other legal proceedings. In particular, the framework aims to preserve viable corporates that are affected by certain internal and external factors and minimize the losses to the creditors and other stakeholders through an orderly and coordinated restructuring program. The corporate debt restructuring system is a non-statutory mechanism and a voluntary system based on debtor-creditor and intercreditor agreements. Secured creditors having a minimum 20.0% exposure in term loans or working capital may make a reference to the CDR Forum. The system established by the RBI has a three-tier structure, led by the CDR Standing Forum, which is the general body for all member institutions, out of which is carved out the CDR Core Group, a niche body of select institutions that decides policy matters. Decisions on restructuring are taken by the CDR Empowered Group, which has all the member banks and financial institutions as its members. A CDR Cell has been formed to assist the CDR Forum in administrative matters and for analysis of the restructuring packages.

The RBI has, by its circular dated November 10, 2005, amended the above guidelines on CDR. The major amendments include:

- extending the scheme to entities with an outstanding exposure of Rs. 100 million or more;
- requiring the support of 60.0% of creditors by number in addition to the support of 75.0% of creditors by value,
- with a view to making the decision-making more equitable;
- giving discretion to the Core Group in dealing with wilful defaulters in certain cases, other than cases involving fraud or the diversion of funds with mala fide intentions;
- linking the restoration of asset classification prevailing on the date of reference to the CDR Cell to implementation of the CDR package within four months from the date of approval of the package;
- restricting the regulatory concession in asset classification and provisioning to the first restructuring, where the package also has to meet norms relating to the turn-around period, minimum sacrifice and injection of funds by promoters;
- converging in the methodology used by banks and financial institutions for the computation of economic sacrifice;
- limiting RBI's role to providing broad guidelines for the CDR mechanism;
- enhancing disclosures in the balance sheet to provide greater transparency;
- requiring the pro-rata sharing of additional finance requirements by both term lenders and working capital lenders;
- allowing one-time settlement as a part of the CDR mechanism to make the exit option more flexible; and requiring the valuation and regulatory treatment of non-SLR instruments acquired while funding interest or in lieu of outstanding principal.

Furthermore, on September 8, 2005, a debt restructuring mechanism in line with the CDR mechanism prevailing in the banking sector was introduced for units in the SME sector.

Enforcement of Security Interests under the SARFAESI Act

To assist banks and financial institutions in recovering their unpaid advances and to ensure financial discipline among borrowers, the Government enacted the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act ("SARFAESI Act") in December 2002. The SARFAESI Act provides the legal framework for (i) the securitisation of financial assets by setting up a Securitisation Company ("SC") or Reconstruction Company ("RC"); (ii) the foreclosure of assets through an SC or RC; and (iii) the foreclosure of NPA accounts. Pursuant to the SARFAESI Act, a secured creditor may, in respect of loans classified as NPAs, give notice in writing to the borrower, requiring it to discharge its liabilities within 60 days, failing which, and in the absence of any satisfactory objections or representations made by the borrower, the secured creditor may take the following measures to recover the amounts due:

- taking possession of the secured assets of the borrower including the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale in order to realise the secured assets;
- taking over the management of secured assets, including the right to transfer these assets by way of lease, assignment or sale in order to realise the secured loans;
- appointing any person to manage the secured assets after taking possession; or
- advising any person who owes money, due to the acquisition of any of the secured assets from the borrower, to pay the money directly to the banks and institutions.

If required, the secured creditors may request the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate or the District Magistrate to take possession of part or whole of the secured assets and other related documents and forward the assets and documents to the secured creditors. The sale proceeds would first be utilized to meet all the expenses incurred in enforcement of the security interest and then for payment of amounts due to secured creditors. The remaining amount would be paid to others in accordance with their rights and interests. In case the amounts due are not fully recovered by the sale of secured assets, then the secured creditors may file an application to the Debt Recovery Tribunal for the remaining amounts due. The secured creditors are also entitled to proceed against the guarantors and sell the pledged assets independent of their action for enforcement of the security interest.

Pursuant to the SARFAESI Act, the borrower cannot make a reference to the BIFR after the transfer of financial assets to an SC or a RC. Similarly, any pending reference before the BIFR shall be withdrawn if 75.0% of the secured creditors (in terms of amount outstanding) have taken any action to recover their amounts due under the SARFAESI Act. On April 8, 2004 the Supreme Court pronounced a judgment upholding the constitutional validity of the SARFAESI Act (with the exception of section 17(2)). The Government has since enacted the Enforcement of Security Interest and Recovery of Debts Laws (Amendment) Act, 2004 (the "Amended Act"). The Amended Act includes:

- a new provision in the Amended Act making it mandatory for the secured creditor to consider any representation or objection raised by the borrower (on whom notice had been served) and communicate reasons for rejection of the representation or objection within one week from the date of receipt of such representation or objection; and
- a new section 13(4)(b) empowering the secured creditor to take over management of the business of such borrower, which is related to the security of the debt. Where a substantial part of the business of the borrower is held as security for the debt, the secured creditor is also empowered to take over the management, including the right to transfer by way of lease, assignment or sale in order to realise the secured asset. However, the term "substantial part of the business" has not been defined;
- an amendment to the Debt Recovery Tribunal Act, 1993, whereby banks and financial institutions may withdraw the recovery application filed by them at the Debt Recovery Tribunal ("DRT") in the event that they propose to initiate action under the SARFAESI Act; and
- two new provisions enabling the aggrieved borrower to make an application to the DRT against any action taken under the SARFAESI Act. The application is required to be decided within 60 days. Further, an appeal can be filed against the order of the DRT before the Debt Recovery Appellate Tribunal ("DRAT") after the borrower has deposited 50.0% of the amount of debt (such sum may be reduced to 25.0% by the DRAT for reasons to be recorded in writing).

On November 29, 2006 the Supreme Court pronounced a judgment on whether withdrawal of an application from the DRT is a condition precedent to having recourse under the SARFAESI Act as defined. The following three points were discussed:

- whether the banks or financial institutions that have elected to seek a remedy under the Recovery of Debts due to Banks and Financial Institutions Act, 1993 ("DRT Act") can still invoke the SARFAESI Act in order to realise the secured assets, without withdrawing or abandoning the original application filed before the DRT pursuant to the DRT Act;
- whether recourse to take possession of the secured assets of the borrower pursuant to section 13(4) of the SARFAESI Act encompasses the power to take actual possession of the immovable property; and

- whether an ad valorem court fee prescribed under rule 7 of the DRT (Procedure) Rules, 1993, is payable on an application under section 17(1) of the SARFAESI Act in the absence of any rule framed under the said Act.
- The Supreme Court discussed various provisions of the DRT Act and the SARFAESI Act and observed that the SARFAESI Act is treated as an additional remedy and is not inconsistent with the DRT Act. Therefore, the withdrawal of an application pending before the DRT under the DRT Act is not a pre-condition for recourse under the SARFAESI Act. It is for the banks or the financial institutions to exercise their discretion in withdrawing cases from the DRT.

Regulations relating to the Sale of Assets to Asset Reconstruction Companies

The RBI has issued guidelines to banks on the process to be followed for sales of financial assets to Asset Reconstruction Companies. These guidelines provide that a bank may sell financial assets to an Asset Reconstruction Company provided that the asset is an NPA. These assets are to be sold on a non-recourse basis only. A bank may sell a standard asset only if the borrower has a consortium or multiple banking arrangements, at least 75.0% by value of the total loans to the borrower are classified as non-performing and at least 75.0% by value of the banks and financial institutions in the consortium or multiple banking arrangements agree to the sale. The banks selling financial assets should ensure that there is no known liability devolving on them and that they do not assume any operational, legal or any other type of risk relating to the financial assets sold. Further, banks may not sell financial assets at a contingent price with an agreement to bear a part of the shortfall on ultimate realisation. However, banks may sell specific financial assets with an agreement to share in any surplus realised by the asset reconstruction company in the future. Whilst each bank is required to make its own assessment of the value offered in the sale before accepting or rejecting an offer for the purchase of financial assets by an asset reconstruction company, in consortium or multiple banking arrangements where more than 75.0% by value of the banks or financial institutions accept the offer, the remaining banks or financial institutions are obliged to accept the offer. Consideration for the sale may be in the form of cash, bond, debentures or security receipts. Banks may invest in pass-through certificates issued by the asset reconstruction company or trusts set up by it to acquire the financial assets.

In February 2006, the RBI issued guidelines for the securitisation of standard assets. The guidelines provide that for a transaction to be treated as a securitisation, a two-stage process must be followed. In the first stage, the pooling of assets and their transfer to a bankruptcy remote vehicle (a special purpose vehicle, "SPV") should take place and in the second stage, the repackaging of the security interests representing claims on incoming cash flows from the pool of assets and their sale to third party investors should be effected. Further, to enable the transferred assets to be removed from the balance sheet of the seller in a securitisation structure, the isolation of assets or the "true sale" from the seller or originator to the SPV is an essential prerequisite. In addition, arm's length relationship must be maintained between the originator and seller, and the SPV. The RBI also issued guidelines in July 2005 in relation to the sale or purchase of NPAs by banks, financial institutions and NBFCs (excluding securitisation companies and reconstruction companies). These guidelines set out the procedure for the purchase or sale of non-performing financial assets by banks, including valuation and pricing aspects and prudential norms in the following areas: (a) asset classification, (b) provisioning, (c) accounting of recoveries, (d) capital adequacy, (e) exposure and (f) disclosure requirements. On October 4, 2007, RBI issued guidelines on the sale and purchase of NPAs, wherein it imposed on banks the consideration that while selling NPAs, banks have to account for the net present value of the estimated cash flows associated with the realisable value of the available securities, net of the cost of realisation. Further, the sale price should generally not be lower than the net present value. The said principle should be applied to compromise settlements entered into by the banks.

Certain regulatory norms relating to capital adequacy, valuation, profit and loss on the sale of assets, income recognition and provisioning for originators and service providers (such as credit enhancers), liquidity support providers, underwriters and investors, and also relating to the accounting treatment for securitisation transactions and disclosure norms, have been prescribed. Apart from banks, these guidelines are also applicable to financial institutions and Non- Banking Financial Companies ("NBFCs").

Classification of SMEs

The Government passed the Micro, Small & Medium Enterprises Development Act, 2006 in June 2006 to promote lending to SMEs and to create uniformity in the way that banks classify SMEs. Entities are divided into micro-, small- and medium-sized entities. Micro-sized entities comprise manufacturing companies with investments in plant and machinery of up to Rs. 25 lakhs or service companies with investments in equipment of up to Rs. 10 lakhs. Small-sized entities comprise manufacturing companies with investments in plant and machinery of over Rs. 25 lakhs but less than Rs. 5 crores and service companies with investments in equipment of over Rs. 10 lakhs but less than Rs. 2 crores. Medium-sized entities comprise manufacturing companies with investments in plant and machinery of over Rs. 5 crores but less than Rs. 10 crores and service companies with investments in equipment of over Rs. 2 crores but less than Rs. 5 crores.

Guidelines on Sale and Purchase of Non-performing Assets

In July 2005, RBI issued guidelines on sales and purchases of non-performing assets between banks, financial institutions and non-bank finance companies. These guidelines require that the Board of Directors of the bank must establish a policy for purchases and sales of non-performing assets. Purchases and sales of non-performing assets must be without recourse to the seller and on a cash basis, with the entire consideration being paid upfront. An asset must have been classified as non-performing for at least two years by the seller to be eligible for sale. The purchasing bank must hold the non-performing asset on its books for at least 15 months before it can sell the asset to another bank. The asset cannot be sold back to the original seller.

Priority Sector Lending

Till fiscal 2007 RBI's directed lending norms required commercial banks to lend a certain percentage of their net bank credit to specific sectors (the priority sectors), such as agriculture, small-scale industry, small businesses and housing finance. Total priority sector advances were set at 40.0% of net bank credit with agricultural advances required to be 18.0% of net bank credit and advances to weaker sections required to be at 10.0% of the net bank credit, and 1.0% of the previous year's total advances outstanding is required to be lent under the Differential Rate of Interest scheme. In April 2007, RBI issued revised guidelines on lending to the priority sector. RBI has linked the priority sector lending targets to adjusted net bank credit (net bank credit plus investments made by banks in non-statutory liquidity bonds included in the held to maturity category and excluding recapitalisation bonds floated by the Government) or credit equivalent amount of off-balance sheet exposure, whichever is higher. Under the revised guidelines the limit on the housing loans eligible for priority sector lending has been increased from Rs. 15 lakhs to Rs. 20 lakhs per borrower. The guidelines have capped eligible direct agriculture finance to non-individuals (i.e. partnership firms, corporates and institutions) at Rs 100 lakhs per borrower. One-third of loans in excess of Rs. 100 lakhs per borrower would also be considered as direct finance while the remaining two-thirds would constitute indirect finance.

In May 2007 RBI issued revised guidelines on lending to the priority sector. According to the revised guidelines, loans given to people forming part of weaker sections of minority communities (as may be notified by the Government of India from time to time) have been brought within the purview of priority sector loans.

In addition, fresh deposits placed by banks' on or after April 30, 2007 with NABARD/SIDBI on account of non-achievement of priority sector lending targets/sub-targets would not be eligible for classification as indirect finance to agriculture / Small Enterprises Sector, as the case may be. However, the deposits placed with NABARD/SIDBI by banks on the above account and outstanding as on April 30, 2007 would be eligible for classification as indirect finance to agriculture/Small Enterprises sector, as the case may be, till the date of maturity of such deposits or March 31, 2010, whichever is earlier.

Export Credit

RBI also requires commercial banks to make loans to exporters at concessional rates of interest. This enables exporters to have access to an internationally competitive financing option. Pursuant to existing guidelines, 12.0% of a bank's net bank credit is required to be in the form of export credit.

Credit Exposure Limits

As a prudent measure aimed at better risk management and avoidance of concentration of credit risk, RBI has prescribed credit exposure limits for banks and long-term lending institutions in respect of their lending to individual borrowers and to all companies in a single group (or sponsor group).

The limits currently set by RBI are as follows:

- The exposure ceiling for a single borrower is 15.0% of capital funds and group exposure limit is 40.0% of capital funds. In case of financing for infrastructure projects, the exposure limit to a single borrower is extendable by another 5.0%, i.e., up to 20.0% of capital funds and the group exposure limit is extendable by another 10.0%, i.e., up to 50.0% of capital funds. Banks may, in exceptional circumstances, with the approval of their Board of Directors, consider enhancement of the exposure to a borrower up to a maximum of further 5.0% of capital funds, subject to the borrower consenting to the banks making appropriate disclosures in their annual reports.
- Capital funds is the total capital as defined under capital adequacy norms (Tier I and Tier II capital).

- Exposure shall include credit exposure (funded and non-funded credit limits) and investment exposure (including underwriting and similar commitments). Non-fund based exposures are calculated at 100.0% and in addition, banks include forward contracts in foreign exchange and other derivative products, like currency swaps and options, at their replacement cost value in determining individual or group borrower exposure ceilings, effective April 1, 2003.

To ensure that exposures are evenly spread, RBI requires banks to fix internal limits of exposure to specific sectors. These limits are subject to periodical review by the banks.

Limits on exposure to Non-Banking Finance Companies

On December 12, 2006, RBI issued guidelines on the financial regulation of systemically important non-banking financial companies and banks' relationship with them with a view to remove the possibility of regulatory arbitrage leading to an uneven playing field and potential systemic risk. Within non-deposit taking non-banking financial companies, the guidelines classify those with an asset size above Rs. 100 crores as per the last audited balance sheet as systemically important. These non-banking financial companies are required to maintain a minimum capital to risk weighted assets ratio of 10.0%, in addition to conforming with single and group exposure norms. The guidelines restrict banks' holding in a deposit taking non-banking financial company, excluding housing finance companies, to 10.0% of the paid up equity capital of the entity. The total exposure to a single non-banking financial company has been limited to 10.0% of the bank's capital fund while exposure to a non-banking asset finance company has been restricted to 15.0% of the bank's capital fund. The limit may be increased to 15.0% and 20.0% respectively provided that the excess exposure is on account of funds lent by the non-banking finance company to infrastructure sectors.

Regulations relating to Investments and Capital Market Exposure Limits

Pursuant to RBI guidelines, a bank's exposure to capital markets by way of investments in shares, convertible debentures, units of equity oriented mutual funds and loans to brokers, should not exceed 40% of its net worth on a stand alone and consolidated basis. Within this limit direct investments in shares, convertible bonds/debentures, units of equity oriented mutual funds and all exposures to venture capital funds have been restricted to 20% of their net worth.

RBI requires that the investment by a bank in subordinated debt instruments, representing Tier II capital, issued by other banks and financial institutions should not exceed 10.0% of the investing bank's capital including Tier II capital and free reserves. In July 2004, RBI imposed a ceiling of 10.0% of capital funds (Tier I plus Tier II capital) on investments by banks and financial institutions in equity shares, preference shares eligible for capital status, subordinated debt instruments, hybrid debt capital instruments and any other instrument approved as in the nature of capital, issued by other banks and financial institutions. Investments in the instruments which are not deducted from Tier I capital of the investing bank or financial institution, are subject to a 100.0% risk weight for credit risk for capital adequacy purposes. The risk weight for credit risk exposure in capital markets has been increased to 125.0% from 100.0% in July 2005. Further, banks and financial institutions cannot acquire any fresh stake in a bank's equity shares, if by such acquisition, the investing bank's or financial institution's holding exceeds 5.0% of the investee bank's equity capital. Banks with investments in excess of the prescribed limits were required to apply to RBI with a roadmap for reduction of the exposure.

Consolidated Supervision Guidelines

In fiscal 2003, RBI issued guidelines for consolidated accounting and consolidated supervision for banks. These guidelines became effective April 1, 2003. The principal features of these guidelines are:

Consolidated Financial Statements: Banks are required to prepare consolidated financial statements intended for public disclosure.

Consolidated Prudential Returns: Banks are required to submit to RBI, consolidated prudential returns reporting their compliance with various prudential norms on a consolidated basis, excluding insurance subsidiaries. Compliance on a consolidated basis is required in respect of the following main prudential norms:

- Single borrower exposure limit of 15.0% of capital funds (20.0% of capital funds provided the additional exposure of up to 5.0% is for the purpose of financing infrastructure projects);
- Borrower group exposure limit of 40.0% of capital funds (50.0% of capital funds provided the additional exposure of up to 10.0% is for the purpose of financing infrastructure projects);
- Deduction from Tier I capital of the bank, of any shortfall in capital adequacy of a subsidiary for which capital adequacy norms are specified; and
- Consolidated capital market exposure limit of 2.0% of consolidated total assets and 10.0% of consolidated net worth.

Effective April 1, 2007 RBI has revised norms for capital market exposure. As per the new guidelines, consolidated capital market exposure by way of investment in shares, convertible debentures, and units of equity oriented mutual funds and loans to brokers should not exceed 40.0% of consolidated net worth. Within this limit direct investment in shares, convertible bonds/debentures, units of equity oriented mutual funds and all exposures to ventures capital funds have been restricted to 20.0% of consolidated net worth.

In June 2004, RBI published the report of a working group on monitoring of financial conglomerates, which proposed the following framework:

- identification of financial conglomerates that would be subjected to focused regulatory oversight;
- monitoring intra-group transactions and exposures and large exposures of the group to outside counter parties;
- identifying a designated entity within each group that would collate data in respect of all other group entities and furnish the same to its regulator; and
- formalizing a mechanism for inter-regulatory exchange of information.

The framework covers entities under the jurisdiction of RBI, the Securities and Exchange Board of India, the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority and the National Housing Bank and would in due course be extended to entities regulated by the proposed Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority.

Net appreciation in each basket, if any, that is not realized is ignored, while net depreciation is provided for.

Investments in security receipts or pass through certificates issued by asset reconstruction companies or trusts set up by asset reconstruction companies should be valued at the net asset value announced periodically by the asset reconstruction company based on the valuation of the underlying assets.

RBI has recently issued draft revised guidelines on investment classification, valuation and accounting which have not yet been finalized.

Limit on Transactions through Individual Brokers

Guidelines issued by RBI require banks to empanel brokers for transactions in securities. These guidelines also require that a disproportionate part of the bank's business should not be transacted only through one broker or a few brokers. RBI specifies that not more than 5.0% of the total transactions through empanelled brokers can be transacted through one broker. If for any reason this limit is breached, RBI has stipulated that the Board of Directors of the bank concerned should ratify such action.

Regulations relating to Deposits

RBI has permitted banks to independently determine rates of interest offered on term deposits. However, banks are not permitted to pay interest on current account deposits. Further, banks may only pay interest of up to 3.5% per annum on savings deposits.

Domestic time deposits have a minimum maturity of seven days. Time deposits from non-resident Indians denominated in foreign currency have a minimum maturity of one year and a maximum maturity of three years.

Starting April 1998, RBI has permitted banks the flexibility to offer varying rates of interests on domestic deposits of the same maturity subject to the following conditions:

- Time deposits are of Rs. 15 lakhs and above; and
- Interest on deposits is paid in accordance with the schedule of interest rates disclosed in advance by the bank and not pursuant to negotiation between the depositor and the bank.

Reserve Bank of India through its circular No.DBOD.No.Dir.BC.82/13.03.00/2008-09 dt.15.11.2008 has advised that the NRE Term Deposit Rates for one to three years maturity should not exceed the LIBOR/SWAP rates plus 175 basis points as on the last working day of the previous month, for US Dollar of corresponding maturities and it is effective from 16.11.2008. The interest rate on non-resident savings deposits is at the rate applicable to domestic savings deposits.

Regulations relating to Knowing the Customer and Anti-Money Laundering

RBI issued a notification dated November 29, 2004 prescribing guidelines for Know Your Customer and anti money laundering procedures. Banks are required to have a customer acceptance policy laying down explicit criteria for acceptance of customers and defining risk parameters. A profile of the customers should be prepared based on risk categorization. Banks have been advised to apply enhanced due diligence for high-risk customers. The guidelines provide that banks should undertake customer identification procedures while establishing a banking relationship or carrying out a financial transaction or when the bank has a doubt about the authenticity or the adequacy of the previously obtained customer identification data. Banks need to obtain sufficient information necessary to establish the identity of each new customer and the purpose of the intended banking relationship. The guidelines also provide that banks should monitor transactions depending on the account's risk sensitivity. In February 2006, RBI issued guidelines on the obligations of banks under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002. RBI also issued anti money laundering guidelines to other entities such as non-bank finance companies and authorized money changers.

In August 2005, RBI has simplified the KYC procedure for opening accounts for those persons who intend to keep balances not exceeding Rs. 50,000 in all their accounts taken together and the total credit in all the accounts taken together is not expected to exceed Rs. 100,000 in a year in order to ensure that the implementation of the KYC guidelines do not result in the denial of the banking services to those who are financially or socially disadvantaged.

The Indian Parliament had enacted the Prevention of Money Laundering Act in 2002. Effective July 1, 2005, the provisions of this Act have come into force. The Act seeks to prevent money laundering and to provide for confiscation of property derived from, or involved in, money laundering. In addition, the applicable exchange control regulations prescribe reporting mechanisms for transactions in foreign exchange and require authorized dealers to report identified suspicious transactions to RBI. In December 2004, the Indian Parliament passed the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Amendment Ordinance/Act, 2004 incorporating the provisions considered necessary to deal with various facets of terrorism. The Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 deals with proceeds of drug related crime.

Regulations on Asset Liability Management

At present, RBI's regulations for asset liability management require banks to draw up asset-liability gap statements separately for rupee and for four major foreign currencies. These gap statements are prepared by scheduling all assets and liabilities according to the stated and anticipated re-pricing date, or maturity date. The structural liquidity report and the interest rate sensitivity report are to be submitted to RBI on fortnightly and monthly, respectively. RBI has advised banks to actively monitor the difference in the amount of assets and liabilities maturing or being re-priced in a particular period and place internal prudential limits on the gaps in each time period, as a risk control mechanism. Additionally, RBI has asked banks to manage their asset-liability structure such that the negative liquidity gap in the day 1, 1-7day, 8-14 day, 15-28 day periods do not exceed 5%, 10%, 15% and 20% respectively of cash outflows in these time periods. In respect of other time periods, RBI has directed banks to lay down internal norms in respect of negative liquidity gaps.

In March 2007, RBI issued guidelines regarding prudential limits for interbank liabilities. Interbank liabilities of a bank cannot exceed 200% of its net worth as on the last day of the previous fiscal year. Individual banks have been permitted, with the approval of their boards of directors, to fix a lower limit for their inter-bank liabilities, keeping in view their business model. However banks whose capital to risk assets ratio is at least 25% more than the minimum capital to risk assets ratio (currently 9%) i.e. 11.25% as on the last day of the previous fiscal year are allowed a higher limit with respect to inter-bank liability of upto 300% of their net worth. It may be noted that the limits prescribed above would include only fund based inter-bank liabilities within India (including inter-bank liabilities in foreign currency to banks operating within India) and inter-bank liabilities outside India are excluded. RBI guidelines also stipulate that existing limits on call-money borrowing shall form a sub-limit of the above-mentioned limit.

Foreign Currency Dealership

RBI grants full-fledged authorized dealers' license to deal in foreign exchange through designated branches. Under this license, permission is granted to:

- engage in foreign exchange transactions in all currencies;
- open and maintain foreign currency accounts abroad;
- raise foreign currency and rupee denominated deposits from non resident Indians;
- grant foreign currency loans to on-shore and off-shore corporations;
- open documentary credits;
- grant import and export loans;
- handle collection of bills, funds transfer services;
- issue guarantees; and
- enter into derivative transactions and risk management activities that are incidental to normal functions authorized under organizational documents.

In the Annual Policy statement for fiscal 2008 RBI permitted banks and primary dealers to begin transactions in single-entity credit default swaps. However, guidelines regarding these transactions are yet to be issued. Further in April 2007 RBI published comprehensive guidelines on derivatives.

Foreign exchange operations are subject to the guidelines specified by RBI in the exchange control manual. An authorized dealer is required to enroll as a member of the Foreign Exchange Dealers Association of India, which prescribes the rules relating to foreign exchange business in India.

Authorized dealers are required to determine their limits on open positions and maturity gaps in accordance with RBI's guidelines and these limits are approved by RBI.

Restrictions on Payment of Dividends

As regards the guidelines issued by the RBI pertaining to the payment of dividends, banks have been given general permission to declare dividends, subject to compliance with the following norms:

- Capital to Risk Asset Ratio ("CRAR") of at least 9.0% for the preceding two completed years and the accounting year for which the bank proposes to declare a dividend; and
- net NPA ratio of less than 7.0%.

In the event a bank does not meet the above CRAR norms, but has a CRAR of at least 9.0% for the accounting year for which it proposes to declare a dividend, it would be eligible to declare a dividend provided its net NPA ratio is less than 5.0%.

The bank should also satisfy the following conditions:

- the bank should comply with the provisions of sections 15 and 17 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949;
- the bank should comply with the prevailing regulations/guidelines issued by the RBI in respect of creating adequate provisions for the impairment of assets and staff retirement benefits, the transfer of profits to statutory reserves etc;
- the dividend payout ratio should not exceed 40.0%;
- the proposed dividend should be payable out of the current year's profit;
- the financial statements pertaining to the financial year for which the bank is declaring a dividend should be free of any qualifications by the statutory auditors which have an adverse bearing on the profit during that year; and
- the RBI should not have placed any explicit restrictions on the bank as regards the declaration of dividends.

In the event that a bank fulfils the conditions stated above, it can declare dividends without the consent of the RBI. If a bank does not comply with the conditions stated above but wishes to declare dividends or a higher rate of dividend, no exemptions shall be available from the RBI

Moratorium, Reconstruction & Amalgamation of Banks

RBI can apply to the Government of India for suspension of business by a banking company. The Government of India after considering the application of RBI may order a moratorium staying commencement of action or proceedings against such company for a maximum period of six months. During such period of moratorium, RBI may (a) in the public interest; or (b) in the interest of the depositors; or (c) in order to secure the proper management of the bank; or (d) in the interests of the banking system of the country as a whole, prepare a scheme for the reconstruction of the bank or amalgamation of the bank with any other bank. In circumstances entailing reconstruction of the bank or amalgamation of the bank with another bank, RBI invites suggestions and objections on the draft scheme prior to placing the scheme before the Government of India for its sanction. The Central Government may sanction the scheme with or without modifications. The law does not require consent of the shareholders or creditors of such banks.

Statutes Governing Foreign Exchange and Cross-Border Business Transactions

Foreign exchange and cross border transactions undertaken by banks are subject to the provisions of the Foreign Exchange Management Act.

RBI issued guidelines on External Commercial Borrowings via its Master Circular in July 2005, which stated that no financial intermediary, including banks, will be permitted to raise such borrowings or provide guarantees in favor of overseas lenders for such borrowings. Eligible borrowers may raise such borrowings to finance the import of equipment and to meet foreign exchange needs of infrastructure projects. In a guideline dated August 1, 2005 RBI announced that external commercial borrowing proceeds can be utilized for overseas direct investment in joint ventures/wholly owned subsidiaries subject to the existing guidelines on Indian Direct Investment in joint ventures/wholly owned subsidiaries abroad. Further utilization of external commercial borrowing proceeds is not permitted for lending, capital market investments or acquisitions in India or real estate investments (including integrated townships). In May 2007 RBI decided to reduce the all-in-cost ceilings for External Commercial Borrowings from LIBOR plus 350 basis points to LIBOR plus 250 basis points (for External Commercial Borrowings with an average maturity period of over five years)..

In March 2006, in view of enhanced stability in India's external and financial sectors and increased integration of the financial sector in the global economy, RBI constituted a Committee to set out a roadmap towards fuller capital account convertibility. The Committee has submitted its report in July 2006.

In October 2006, RBI permitted banks to borrow funds from their overseas branches and correspondent banks (including borrowings for financing export credit, ECBs and overdrafts from their Head Office/Nostro account) up to a limit of 50% of unimpaired Tier I capital or US$ 10.0 million, whichever is higher, as against the earlier overall limit of 25% (excluding borrowings for financing export credit). However, short-term borrowings up to a period of one year or less should not exceed 20% of unimpaired Tier I capital within the overall limit of 50%. Capital funds raised by issue of innovative perpetual debt instruments and other overseas borrowings with the specific approval of the Reserve Bank would continue to be outside the limit of 50%. In April 2007 RBI issued a circular deferring the implementation of the above guidelines till further notice.

Legal Reserve Requirements

Cash Reserve Ratio

A bank is required to maintain a specified percentage of its net demand and time liabilities, excluding inter-bank deposits, by way of cash reserve with itself and by way of balance in current account with RBI. Following the enactment of RBI (Amendment) Bill 2006, the floor and ceiling rates (earlier 3% and 20% respectively) on the cash reserve ratio were removed.

The following liabilities are excluded from the calculation of the demand and time liabilities to determine the cash reserve ratio:

- inter-bank liabilities;
- liabilities to primary dealers;
- refinancing from RBI and other institutions permitted to offer refinancing to banks; and
- perpetual debt qualifying for lower Tier I capital treatment.

The cash reserve ratio is 5% effective January 17, 2009. Further, effective April 13, 2007 RBI does not pay any interest on cash reserve ratio balances.

The cash reserve ratio has to be maintained on an average basis for a fortnightly period and should not be below 70% of the required cash reserve ratio on any day of the fortnight.

Statutory Liquidity Ratio

In addition to the cash reserve ratio, a bank is required to maintain a specified percentage of its net demand and time liabilities by way of liquid assets like cash, gold or approved unencumbered securities. The percentage of this liquidity ratio is fixed by RBI from time to time, and it can be a minimum of 25% and a maximum of 40% pursuant to section 24 of the Banking Regulation Act. At present, RBI requires banking companies to maintain a liquidity ratio of 24%. The Banking Regulation (Amendment) Bill, 2005 introduced in the Indian Parliament proposes to amend section 24 of the Banking Regulation Act to remove the minimum statutory Liquidity Ratio stipulation, thereby giving RBI the freedom to fix the Statutory Liquidity Ratio below this level.

Requirements of the Banking Regulation Act

Prohibited Business

The Banking Regulation Act specifies the business activities in which a bank may engage. Banks are prohibited from engaging in business activities other than the specified activities.

Reserve Fund

According to Section 17 of the Banking Regulation Act, a bank is required to create a reserve fund and transfer at least 20% of its disclosed profits to that account. In September 2000, RBI issued a circular increasing the amount transferable to the reserve fund from 20% to 25% of the disclosed profits of each year before dividends. If there is an appropriation from this account, the bank is required to report the same to RBI within 21 days, explaining the circumstances leading to such appropriation. The Government of India may, on the recommendation of RBI, exempt a bank from requirements relating to its reserve fund. In 2006, RBI issued a circular advising banks that all expenses including provisions and write-offs recognized in a period, whether mandatory or prudential, should be reflected in the profit and loss account for the period before the net profit is arrived at. Further, banks also need to ensure that suitable disclosures are made in the “Notes on accounts” to the balance sheet whenever a draw down of reserves occurs.

Payment of Dividend

Pursuant to the provisions of the Banking Regulation Act, a bank can pay dividends on its shares only after all its capitalized expenses (including preliminary expenses, share selling commission, brokerage, amounts of losses and any other item of expenditure not represented by tangible assets) have been completely written off. The Indian government may exempt banks from this provision by issuing a notification on the recommendation of RBI.

Restriction on Share Capital and Voting Rights

Banks can issue only ordinary shares. The Banking Regulation Act specifies that no shareholder in a banking company can exercise voting rights on poll in excess of 10% of total voting rights of all the shareholders of the banking company.

Only banks incorporated before January 15, 1937 can issue preference shares.

A legislation has been introduced in Parliament to amend the Banking Regulation Act to remove the limit of 10% on the maximum voting power exercisable by a shareholder in a banking company and allow banks to issue redeemable and non-redeemable preference shares.

Restrictions on Investments in a Single Company

No bank may hold shares, as a pledgee, mortgagee or absolute owner in any company other than a subsidiary, exceeding 30% of the paid up share capital of that company or 30% of its own paid up share capital and reserves, whichever is less.

Regulatory Reporting and Examination Procedures

RBI is empowered under the Banking Regulation Act to inspect a bank. RBI monitors prudential parameters at quarterly intervals. To this end and to enable off-site monitoring and surveillance by RBI, banks are required to report to RBI on aspects such as:

- assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet exposures;
- the risk weighting of these exposures, the capital base and the capital adequacy ratio;
- the unaudited operating results for each quarter;
- asset quality;
- concentration of exposures;
- connected and related lending and the profile of ownership, control and management; and
- other prudential parameters.

RBI also conducts periodical on-site inspections on matters relating to the bank's portfolio, risk management systems, internal controls, credit allocation and regulatory compliance, at intervals ranging from one to three years. We have been and, at present are, subject to the inspection by RBI at yearly intervals. The inspection report, along with the report on actions taken by us, has to be placed before Board of Directors. On approval by Board of Directors, we are required to submit the report on actions taken by us to RBI. RBI also discusses the report with the management team including the Managing Director & CEO.

RBI also conducts on-site supervision of selected branches with respect to their general operations and foreign exchange related transactions.

Assets to be Maintained in India

Every bank is required to ensure that its assets in India (including import-export bills drawn in India and RBI approved securities, even if the bills and the securities are held outside India) are not less than 75% of its demand and time liabilities in India.

Prohibition of trading

BR Act also states that no banking company shall directly or indirectly deal in the buying or selling or bartering of goods, except in connection with the realization of security given to or held by it, or engage in any trade, or buy, sell or barter goods for others otherwise than in connection with bills of exchange received for collection or negotiation or with such of its business as is referred to in the BR Act.

ANNEXURE IX

ADJUSTMENTS INCORPORATED IN THE SUMMARISED AUDITED FINANCIAL RESULTS GIVEN IN PART I & II CONSEQUENT TO CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND QUALIFICATIONS IN AUDIT REPORT.

Particulars of significant changes in Accounting Policies & Practices and restated statements

1.1 -for the financial years 31/03/2005 to 31/03/2009:

During the five consecutive financial years ended March 31, 2009, various guidelines were issued by Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on income recognition, Asset Classification, Provisioning of Assets, Classification of investments and depreciation on Fixed Assets. Necessary Changes in the Accounting Policies have been made in the relevant years, to be in conformity with RBI Guidelines.

No adjustment for the above has been made in the restated Accounts, being changes following Statutory Guidelines of RBI.

1.2 - for the financial years ended 31/03/2005 to 31/03/09

During the year ended 31/03/2008, the bank has adopted the Revised Accounting Standard (AS 15) on "Employee Benefits" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India on Accounting for Retirement Benefits as against the method followed in the earlier years where the then existing Accounting Standard 15 was followed. In accordance with the option given, the transitional liability as on 31.3.07 was charged to the profit & loss account over a period of five years from the year 31.3.08. In the restated accounts, the transitional liability determined on the actuarial valuation (other than for sick leave which was determined on an estimated basis) for the periods upto 31/03/04 amounting to Rs.17.20 Crores has been provided by debit to Profit and Loss Account in the years 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009. The incremental liability consequent on AS-15 (Revised) for each year 2005, 2006 and 2007 has also been provided for. Consequently, the proportionate transitional liability provided for in the years 2008 and 2009 has been reversed. Due to this change, the net profit of the said years were (lower) / higher by Rs. (2.90 crores), Rs.(5.28 crores), Rs.(6.48 crores), Rs.0.52 crores and Rs.0.52 crores for the years 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009 respectively with the consequent impact on Reserves & Surplus and Other Liabilities.

1.3 – for the financial years ended 31/03/05 to 31/03/07.

During the year ended 31/03/07, two assets which were earlier accounted as banking assets have been treated as non-banking assets. In the restated accounts, appropriate effect has been given in the respective years. As a result of this, the depreciation of Rs.0.20 crore provided in 2006 and withdrawn in 2007 was reversed, with consequential impact on Net profit, Reserves & Surplus, Fixed Assets and Other Assets of those years.

1.4 For the financial years ended 31/03/05 to 31/03/09.

Consequent on the adjustments made as detailed in para 1.2 above, the effect of deferred tax has also been incorporated resulting in increase / (decrease) in net profit of Rs. 1.06 crores, Rs. 1.78 crores, Rs. 2.18 crores, Rs. (0.18 crores) and Rs. (0.18 crores) for the years 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 & 2009 respectively with consequential impact on Reserves & Surplus and Other Assets.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Shareholders should read the following discussion of Bank's financial condition and results of operations together with restated audited financial statements which appear in the section titled "Auditors Report" in this Letter of Offer. The following discussion is based on restated financial statements for financial year 2007, 2008 and 2009. The Bank's financial year ends on March 31 of each year, so all references to a particular fiscal are to the twelve month period ended March 31 of that year. Unless otherwise indicated, all financial and statistical data relating to the banking industry in the following discussion are derived from various industry reports.

Overview

Lakshmi Vilas Bank, a private sector bank, commenced its operations on November 10, 1926. As on March 31, 2009 LVB had a network of 251 branches spread over 13 States and the National Capital Territory of Delhi and Union Territory of Pondicherry. The Bank started expanding its boundaries beyond Tamil Nadu after 1974 by opening branches in the neighboring states of Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat, West Bengal, Delhi, Pondicherry, Haryana, Jharkhand, Orissa, Rajasthan, and Uttar Pradesh. LVB has a strong and wide base in the State of Tamil Nadu, one of the most progressive States in the country, which is politically stable and has a vibrant industrial environment.

The rating agency CARE after due surveillance as on December 29, 2008, assigned the revised rating of BBB+ (Triple B plus) from A- (A minus) assigned earlier to Lower Tier II Bonds aggregating to Rs. 110 crores (Series IIIA and IIIB – Rs. 50 crores, Series IVA and IVB – Rs. 30 crores and Series V – Rs. 30 crores) indicating moderate safety for timely servicing of debt obligations.

The Bank's business crossed Rs. 12,606.73 crore as on March 31, 2009. The Bank earned Net Profit of Rs. 50.30 crores. The Net Owned Funds of the Bank reached Rs. 453.72 crore. With a fairly good quality of loan assets the Net NPA of the Bank was pegged at 1.24% as on March 31, 2009, down from 1.55% as on March 31, 2008.

Factors Affecting our Results of Operations

The Bank's loan portfolio, financial condition and results of operations have been, and are expected to be, influenced by economic conditions in India, expected growth in retail credit in India and certain global developments, particularly in commodity prices relating to the business activities of the Bank's corporate customers. To facilitate the understanding of the discussion of the Bank's results of operations that follows, you should consider the introductory discussion of these macroeconomic factors.

The Indian Economy

Our financial condition and results of operations are influenced largely by general economic conditions prevailing in India. The Indian economy has grown at decreasing rate over the past three fiscal years. GDP growth was 9.7 in Fiscal 2007, 9.0% in Fiscal 2008 and 7.1 (estimated) in Fiscal 2009. The real GDP growth in Fiscal 2009 was contributed to by sustained accelerated growth in the services sector notwithstanding slow growth in the agriculture sector and Industry.

The growth in agriculture sector dropped from the high of 4.9% in fiscal 2008 to 2.6% (estimated) in fiscal 2009. Similarly, growth in Industrial Sectors also decreased from 8.1% in fiscal 2008 to 4.8% (estimated) in 2009. However, resilience by Services Sector which grew 9.6% (estimated) in fiscal 2009 vis-à-vis 10.9% in fiscal 2008, helped economy achieve GDP growth rate of 7.1% (estimated) in fiscal 2009.

Our business is affected by seasonal trends in the Indian economy that affect the overall banking industry.

Interest Rates

The majority of the Bank's corporate and commercial loans are priced at a floating rate based on the Bank's prime lending rate. This rate is primarily determined by the RBI's lending rate. The RBI lending rate has risen steadily since 2004 till 2008, partly to reduce the money supply and partly to reduce liquidity at Indian banks. However the lending rates were reduced subsequent to global financial crisis partly to improve money supply.

The table below shows the average monthly RBI bid (reverse repo rates) and ask (repo rates) as on the dates indicated:

As of year ended March 31,	Bank Rate	Reverse Repo Rate	Repo Rate
2004	6.00%	4.50%	6.00%
2005	6.00%	4.75%	6.00%
2006	6.00%	5.50%	6.50%
2007	6.00%	6.00%	7.75%
2008	6.00%	6.00%	7.75%
2009 (June 30, 2009)	6.00%	3.25%	4.75%

1	Police complaint by the bank.	Mr.Rahim Khan	Service Branch Chennai	6.10

Brief History

The Bank's Vellore branch had issued the following Demand Drafts on Service Branch, Chennai :

S.No.	DD No.	Date	Amount	Payee name
01	562195	10.04.2006	Rs.500/-	Priya
02	562196	10.04.2006	Rs.1000/-	Ajay Kumar

The above demand drafts were materially altered as follows and presented for payment in High Value Clearing through UTI Bank, Dr.Radhakrishnan Salai Branch, Chennai. The drafts were materially altered in respect of the amount and name of the payee, as furnished hereunder

S.No.	DD No.	Date	Amount	Payee Name	Presented on
01	562195	10.04.2006	Rs.2,30,000/-	Rahim Khan	11.04.2006
02	562196	10.04.2006	Rs.3,80,000/-	Rahim Khan	12.04.2006

The first DD was presented in High Value Clearing by UTI Bank on 11.04.2006 and was paid under 'Ex-advice' (pending receipt of Advice from Vellore branch) by Service branch, Chennai, as the alterations were not apparently visible. Out of this, the party had withdrawn Rs.40000/- each on 11.04.2006 and 12.04.2006 through UTI Bank ATM at Arumbakkam, Chennai.

The second DD was presented by the same branch of the UTI Bank in clearing for Rs.3,80,000/- on 12.04.2006, by when, DD protection advice from our Vellore branch had been received and therefore the manipulations came to light, which had helped the Service Branch, Chennai to return the Demand Draft to UTI Bank on reasons of "Fraudulent material alterations".

Since the relative advice of the demand draft issued by the Vellore branch on 10.04.2006 for Rs.500/- was not received on 11.04.2006 at Service branch, Chennai, the branch had honoured the altered draft without knowing the fraudulent transaction. In respect of this materially altered demand draft for which the Service Branch had paid the proceeds to UTI Bank, at our Bank's request, the UTI Bank had frozen the party's account with them, without allowing any further operations including that of withdrawal through ATM.

Rs.1.50 lakh have been recovered and kept under sundries account. The insurance claim has been lodged.

The police complaint had been lodged (FIR No.326/2006 dt.14.04.2006) and the hearing of case is posted to 25.08.2009.

2	Police complaint by the bank.	Mr. Dharamvir	Nagpur	Rs.4.92
Brief History Demand Draft No.162228 dated 10.07.2006 originally issued by our Andheri branch for Rs.500/- favouring Yogesh Sawant payable at Pune was materially altered for Rs.4,92,000/- favouring DHARAMVIR and made payable at our Nagpur Branch. This DD was deposited by the culprit DHARAMVIR for the credit of his Savings Account maintained by him at Bank of India, Vikaspuri Branch, New Delhi. The Vikaspuri, Delhi Branch of Bank of India had forwarded the same for collection to our Branch through their Nagpur Branch. On collection, the proceeds were credited to the SB Account of Dharamvir by Bank of India on 19.07.2006. As the material alteration made in the Demand Draft was not visible, the DD was paid by our Nagpur Branch in due course. The culprit had materially altered the second DD (as referred in the table above) for Rs.5,98,860/- favouring himself (Dharamvir) and deposited the same at Bank of India, Vikaspuri Branch, New Delhi and presented in clearing on 25.07.2006. But our Nagpur Branch on getting some doubt, as the value of this draft was large and this draft had been presented in quick succession, made enquiries with Andheri Branch and found that no such DD was issued on Nagpur Branch. Then Draft was returned to Bank of India unpaid. By now, the Nagpur Branch having come across the fraudulent transaction had verified the drafts passed for payment on 19.07.2006. They came to know about the material alteration of the first Draft referred to above by the culprit DHARAMVIR, and reported to the police authorities on the same day itself i.e., 25.07.2006. FIR has been filed on 26.07.2006 and police investigation is under way (FIR No.203/06 dt.26.07.2006.) The insurance claim is already lodged.

3	DRT case filed by the Bank	M/s. R.J.Aгри Source	Bangalore Main branch	3791.62
Brief History The borrower M/s. R. J. Aгри Source is a partnership firm with two partners, viz., Sri Jeevanand Kini and Sri. Rajesh Pai. The firm was established on 19.04.2006 as per the registered partnership deed. The firm had applied for goods loan against warehouse receipts and the Bank had sanctioned such a loan for Rs.40Crores against primary and collateral securities as agreed upon by the firm. The Credit facilities sanctioned were disbursed during July and November 2006 (Rs.20 Cr. Each) and it was found subsequently that the borrower had cheated the bank in respect of the securities offered. While the borrower had stored the specified goods in the warehouse they had furnished to the bank falsified warehouse receipts. The officials of the branch did not verify lien registration in favour of the Bank in the books of the warehouse godown. The warehouse keeper had misinformed the branch officials that the registration of lien in favour of the bank is carried out only in their regional office of the central Warehouse Corporation. The borrower had brought a letter purported to have been issued by the Regional Office of the Central Warehouse Corporation for having registered the lien in their books. Later on, when the genuineness of the certificate verified, it came to light that the certificate was also fabricated by the borrower. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The borrower had stored wheat at the Central Warehousing Corporation (CWC) godowns in three different locations in Bangalore relating to which the lien was marked in favour of a lender at Delhi. 2. At the time of borrowing from our bank, the borrower had furnished warehouse receipts wherein the lien in favour of The Lakshmi Vilas Bank Ltd (LVB) was already marked. 3. The branch officials / concurrent auditors / inspector of branches who had carried out stock verification reported that at the time of inspection on two occasions they were made to believe that the goods were under lien to the LVB.

4. Within a couple of days the borrower had produced a letter from Regional office of CWC reporting that for the goods referred to in that letter were lien marked in favour of LVB.
5. During the first week of December 2006 when doubts were raised as to the genuineness of transactions coupled with the information that the borrower had raised loans in two or three banks against the same properties, our Bank had verified the genuineness of the warehouse receipts and the collateral security. The warehouse keeper has denied having any stock of wheat under lien to LVB and that the warehouse receipts held by the bank were fabricated one.
6. The commercial flats located at residency road, Bangalore of the partners were offered as collateral securities to the bank. Both the partners had committed suicide.
7. We also came to know that the borrowers in the name of their sister concerns had availed facilities with other banks such as Indian Overseas Bank, Karnataka Bank etc. and we are trying to find out whether there are common securities lodged with all the banks by fabricating title deeds and connected documents.

Branch Manager, Inspecting officer and Concurrent Auditor did not carry out actual physical verification of the goods stored and charged to the Bank before, during or after disbursement of the loan. Also at the time of disbursement of enhanced part of the Loan on 23rd and 24th November 2006, Branch had neither verified the stocks in the Warehouse nor obtained the confirmation of Registration of Lien.

Mr. Kondalarao

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
4	Police case	Mr. Kondalarao	Malkajgiri	31.50

Brief History

A fraudster has impersonated as Mr.Samson Sanjeeva Rao, owner of 773 sq. yards land in Malkajgiri. One Mr.Kondala Rao had introduced himself as the builder of the flats on the lands belonging to Mr.Samson Sanjeeva Rao. Mr.Kondala Rao had introduced 7 persons and recommended Housing loan for them. 5 of them were reported as employed in South Central Railway and remaining 2 of them were reported as employed in Nuclear Fuel Complex, Hyderabad. These 7 people had submitted forged salary certificates.

Our Divisional office, Hyderabad, at the recommendation of our Malkajgiri branch had sanctioned Housing Loans of Rs.4.50 lakhs each to the 7 applicants. The loan proceeds and the margin money etc., were credited to the accounts of the builder and the promoter. The sale deeds were executed by a person impersonating Mr.Samson Sanjeeva Rao in favour of the Borrowers. Equitable Mortgage was created with the sale deeds.

The borrowers did not occupy the flats, as it unfolded that these persons were hired by Sri.Kondal Rao to execute loan documents with the Bank for availing the Housing loans. The borrowers had executed the loan documents with the bank for monetary considerations agreed with Sri.Kondal Rao. Further it came to light that the land and flat property were subject of prior mortgage to a co-operative bank and the bank had obtained a court decree for recovery of their dues. The person who had acted as promoter as also property owner i.e., Mr.Samson Sanjeeva Rao had submitted a Xerox copy of sale deed only as his title deed. He did not submit the original sale deed (Title deed for the 773 sq. yards of land).

Thus, the borrowers did not acquire any title over the flats. The equitable mortgages created by them were nullified. Out of the Seven Housing loans One loan account was closed and repayments were made for a few months in the other accounts. All these repayments were made by Mr. Kondala Rao and not by the borrowers.

The insurance claim had been lodged and the police investigation on branch complaints is still pending (FIR No.392/2007 dt.10.07.2007). The case is posted on 27.07.2009 for trial. Another case under No.RC 32(A)/2005 – CBI ,Anti-Corruption branch, Koti Hyderabad is also pending in respect of the above party.

Mr.R.Muralidharan

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
5	--	Mr. R.Muralidharan	Jayanagar, Bangalore	1.08

Brief History

It is reported that certain irregularities were observed in the Staff Clean Over Draft (SCOD) account of Mr. Muralidharan, Support cell officer, D.O. Bangalore (Staff) at our Jayanagar branch.

Mr.R.Muralidharan, Support Cell officer of Bangalore Divisional Office, misappropriated the clearing proceeds of one of the customers of Jayanagar Branch, for deriving personal benefit through the back end of the computer system. The detail of the fraud perpetrated is given hereunder.

The customer, whose account was manipulated, complained that the clearing credit of his account was missing. An equivalent amount of credit found in the official's account on the same date lead to suspicion and the fraud came to light.

On verification of the database it was found that the official had diverted the outward clearing proceeds of three cheques, pertaining to a customer to the credit of his personal account. The details of the transactions are as follows.

S.No	Cheque Particular			Date of lodgment of clearing cheque	Date on which clearing proceeds were credited
	No	Date	Amount Rs.
1	336884	16.10.06	39810.00	28.10.2006	30.10.2006
2	820566	31.10.06	33709.00	04.11.2006	06.11.2006
3	845927	09.11.06	34900.00	11.11.2006	13.11.2006
	TOTAL		108419.00

The staff had reduced a sum of Rs.39810/- (NO 1 above) from the uncleared balance pertaining to the customer, by altering the process flag from the backend to ensure that the amount which would otherwise get credited to the account of the customer was not credited to the customer's account. An entry for equivalent amount was created in favour of the official's account.

In terms of the facts as informed by the Branch Manager, it is understood that the customer on a later date complained about the absence of credit entry pertaining to the instrument in his account statement. Mr.Muralidharan(official) then inserted an entry in the account statement using "Rebuildhist.exe" (This program is used to insert an entry in account statement). The balance has been re-arrived on 5-11-06. On the same day itself the official had reduced the uncleared balance of the customer by Rs.73519/- (Rs.39810/- + Rs.33709/-). The official inserted an entry in the account statement of the customer for Rs.33709/-, but the balance in the master table was not altered. The official had also inserted an entry in his account statement to reflect a credit entry.

Similarly the official on 13-11-2006 diverted an amount of Rs.34900/- to his account.

The concerned officer has been dismissed from service and the insurance claim had been lodged.

Mr.K.Sethumadhavan

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
6	Police complaint by the bank.	Mr. Sethumadhavan	Indore	1.46

Brief History

Mr.K.Sethumadhavan, officer, was in the habit of transferring money from various customers' accounts to the credit of his account for deriving personal benefits. This kind of misappropriation of funds was carried out between 04.06.2005 and 19.04.2006 totaling to Rs.1,46,260/-. The transfers were carried out without cheques / written authorization of the customers and hence amount to unauthorized debits. The official had prepared internal vouchers for a few transfers amounting to Rs.32,230/-, while for the rest of the transfers, he had not prepared any vouchers.

It is ascertained from the investigation report that Mr.K.Sethumadhavan had posted the transfer vouchers under officer's password and authorized them under his Manager's password. He had created and used multiple user Ids with different job roles namely Administrator, Manager, Officer and Teller, whereas a user can have single user ID at their role (Manager, Officer or Teller).

The computer system in vogue in the branch has a validation check and it will not allow voucher posting and authorization by the same user, as maker and checker of the vouchers should be of different persons.

Mr.K.Sethumadhavan has circumvented this requirement of security by using different user Ids.

'Particulars' column of vouchers were either left blank or filled in with the words 'By cash', notwithstanding the fact that these entries were transferred from Current /CC / OD accounts. The words 'By cash' have been wantonly fed by the official to mislead others and to avert immediate suspicion / detection.

The total amount of misappropriation through such irregular transfers made is Rs.1,46,260/-.

The police complaint and the insurance claim had been lodged. The concerned employee is now dismissed.

On 09.07.2005, the OIC had withdrawn Rs.2.00 Lakh from his savings account and adjusted Rs.1,83,252/- towards the closure of the above deposit loan account in the name of Shri. G. Subbarao. The said credit cash voucher was prepared by OIC and the said voucher did not bear the signature of the remitter. Branch issued a pay order to Mr. Kondal Rao and Ms. G. Anupama for Rs.13,589/- respectively, being the balance amount after adjusting the matured deposit amount towards deposit loan accounts. The said pay orders were prepared and authorized for cash payment by the OIC. The depositors/beneficiaries are disputing the receipt of the balance amount and also the signature(s) found in the pay orders.

Thirumoorthulu, Sub-Staff of our Secunderabad Branch. The concerned officer had been dismissed. The insurance claim had been lodged.

The police complaint had been lodged (FIR No.214/2005 dt.03.12.2005) and the final investigation report is pending. The case is on the trial of Honorable CMM Court of Vishakapatnam under CC 433/06 dt.02.04.2005.

Brief History
A bearer cash cheque for Rs.2,800/- was presented over the counter for payment to the debit of SB account no.8271 of Sri. K.Velliangiri on 22.05.2007. The cheque was debited to the SB account and also included in the officer's cash scroll. However, the cheque was returned to the bearer with an advice to bring back the same with the signature on the reverse of the cheque. The bearer, did not turn up that day. The Officer had forgotten about the cheque debited to the account but handed over to the bearer. At the end of the day, the cashier had found the difference of Rs.2,800/- and having found that there was no person to whom the payment was made and physically the cheque was also not available with him to effect the payment, he had, stealthily, manipulated the transactions in the cash chitta maintained by him as though the cash payment of Rs.2,800/- was made. The cash scroll of the Officer and the cash chitta of the cashier were tallied to each other in terms of the closing cash. The cashier had misappropriated Rs.2,800/- and the cash particulars book was also cast accordingly. The account holder had presented the same cheque on 16.06.2007 and the branch could not make the payment for want of sufficient balance in the account. However, the SB account holder had informed the branch manager that no payment was made to him or to the bearer on 22.05.2007 and when the branch manager went into the details, it came to light that the cashier had misappropriated the money. Therefore, the cashier had paid the amount of Rs.2,800/- to the SB account holder and sorted out the issue with the customer. The concerned staff was suspended and police complaint had been lodged.

Mr. M.Thangavel

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
38	Police case	Mr. M.Thangavel	Thokkavadi	0.60

Brief History

Prof. M. Thangavel, the customer of our Tiruchengode branch had forwarded a complaint dated 30.04.07 to our Chairman stating that 3 cheques from his office table drawer were stolen by someone and had encashed a sum of Rs.60000/- by withdrawing Rs.20000/- per cheque. Prof. M.Thangavel further stated that the bank personnel have paid the cheques without verifying his signature. He had requested for repayment of Rs.60000/- to him within a month.

S.No	Cheque NO	Date	Rupees	Remarks
1	408846	13.12.06	20,000	All are self-cheques signed by the drawer on the face of the instrument as also on the reverse and also signed by one Mr. T.Kannan who received the cash drawn.
2	408847	14.12.06	20,000	----DO----
3	408848	16.12.06	20,000	----DO----

Details of Withdrawals:

In terms of the records available, the payment has been effected to one Mr. T. Kannan in respect of all the 3 cheques.

The signature of the drawer, i.e., Prof. M.Thangavel as available on the face of the cheque as also on the reverse apparently had some differences with the signature lodged with the branch.

Prof. M.Thangavel had requested the branch manager / officer / cashier to identify the person to whom the cheque payments of the 3 cheques were made. To this effect, he had made available certain photographs of colleagues and subordinates who generally frequent the extension counter for withdrawal of cash. Out of the photographs seen by the branch manager the photograph of one Mr.Dhandapani was identified as the person who had come on all 3 days for withdrawal. It is gathered from branch officials/staff that Mr.Dhandapani had come to the branch to draw cash in respect of the cheques under reference on all days of payment and signed on the reverse of the cheque in the name of Mr. T.Kannan with evil designs to mislead identities at a later stage, in case of investigation, interrogation, enquiries, police case etc. Further it is also revealed that there is no person working in the college in the name of Sri. T.Kannan.

Mr.Dhandapani who was interrogated by the police consequent upon complaint filed by Prof. M.Thangavel has denied withdrawal through the above 3 cheques and he has firmly informed that he has nothing to do with the whole episode. The investigation by the police department is in progress which was registered under FIR 216A/2007 dt. 13.04.2007. The insurance claim had been lodged. Fully provided for.

Present Position:

On perusal of the FIR lodged by the customer Mr.M.Thangavel, it is obvious that the suspicion is purely on his colleague Mr.Dhandapani. Since professor Mr.M.Thangavel contends that he had not signed the aforesaid cheques and that they appear to be forged, the DO – Salem had sent all the necessary papers such as cheques, pay-in slips, etc of Mr.M.Thangavel to handwriting experts of the forensic department of the Government of Tamilnadu. They have furnished their findings, in terms of which, the signature found on the cheques under reference are not that of Mr.M.Thangavel. In order to find out the person who has forged the cheques, the handwriting materials of Mr.Dhandapani supplied by the college on our request, has since been forwarded to forensic department for their findings to ascertain whether Mr.Dhandapani had forged the cheques. We have since received an amount of Rs.0.48 lacs from insurance company on 07.07.2009.

M/s. Bhagyalakshmi Chillies Agencies

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
39	Police case	M/s. Bhagyalakshmi Chillies Agencies	Guntur	3.00

Brief History

On 13.02.2008, on opening of the branch, M/s. Bhagyalakshmi Chillies Agencies, a current account holder had tendered a cheque for Rs. 3 lakhs bearing number 039912 for withdrawing cash from the account and was given a token bearing number 6175. As the network connectivity was not available since morning the system was not working and the client was requested to come in the afternoon to collect the cash. Therefore the cheque was kept on the table along with the other cheques including a cheque bearing number 042522 tendered by another current account holder M/s. Mallikharjuna Enterprises for Rs. 5 lakhs for withdrawal of cash who was given a token bearing number 6179.

As there was no one available in the working area of the branch except the cashier during lunch time, it appears, that a stranger had managed to pick up two cheques from the table for Rs 5 lakhs and Rs. 3 lakhs bearing cheque numbers 042522 and 039912 respectively referred to above. The stranger probably knew well that the cheques kept on the table had not been passed for payment and therefore plotted to use these two cheques to obtain token and then possibly receive payment against the tokens. Out of these two cheques he had first tendered Rs. 5 lakhs cheques after cutting off the token number already written over the cheque. The cashier who is otherwise not the regular person giving the tokens to customers, not knowing about the token that was already given for this cheque and not noticing the token written and struck off, had given a fresh token bearing number 6182 to the stranger.

The stranger, however, for reasons best known to him, did not encash the token for the cheque of Rs. 5 lakhs. It appears that he had once again altered the token number on Rs. 5 lakhs cheque thereby rewriting the original token number 6179. The stranger had now changed the token number as 6182 on the Rs. 3 lakhs cheque he had with him thereby cutting the original token number 6175 found written over there. Around 4 PM or so the stranger was found waiting in the customers lobby. The temporary peon of the branch had enquired with him as to why he was waiting. In reply, the stranger had given him the cheque of Rs. 3 lakhs for passing the same thereby informing that he had to go urgently and therefore wanted the cash. The peon, while collecting the cheque from him, had noticed a token in his hand but it appears that it did not strike him as to how the stranger had both the cheque and the token in hand together. The peon had informed the urgency of the customer (stranger) to the passing officer who had passed the cheque after ascertaining the balance from our Tirupathi branch, as the connectivity was not restored even by the evening. When the cheque of Rs. 3 lakhs was passed for payment the stranger had tendered the token number 6182, obtained cash payment of Rs. 3 lakhs and had fled away.

The modus operandi adopted by the fraudster for taking the cheques, replacing it, etc. is only our presumption based on circumstantial evidence and it is not clear as to whether there is the involvement of more number of persons.

A police complaint has been lodged and FIR has been obtained (under reference No.54/2008 dt.18.12.2008). The investigation by the police is in progress. The insurance claim has been lodged. The provision had been made for full amount.

Mr. G.Kumerasan

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
40	Police case	Mr. G.Kumerasan	Trichy Main	1.05

Brief History

The branch came to know of the non availability of a jewel packet relating to jewel loan account in the name of C.Radhakrishnan when he came to branch to redeem the jewels. On searching all the jewel packets the branch found that two other jewel packets were also missing. The customer was advised to collect the jewels next day thereby informing him that the jewel packets got mixed up with others.

After a thorough search the branch got the suspicion confirmed that the three jewel packets had been stolen by somebody. The officials in charge of the dual control keys had suspected the temporary sub staff, who had, on intensive enquiry admitted having stolen all the three jewel packets and obtained finance against the pledge of the jewels with pawnbrokers.

The amount involved in respect of the three jewel loans in terms of its valuation was Rs 2.45 Lacs and the amount of loan extended was Rs 1.05 Lacs. These jewel loans were disbursed during Dec 2007. We understand that the temporary peon by name Sri. G.Kumerasan had borrowed a sum of Rs. 1.50 Lacs against these jewels, from the pawn brokers.

Though the dual keys were supposed to be with the joint custodians independently one key with each official ,in practice, the dual keys were kept in one key bunch and the joint operation of the safe was not strictly followed. The reason given for such lack of compliance of the set procedures is that of heavy volume of business in the branch and they have found it difficult for the two officials to go to the safe room at any point of time.

Based on the investigation conducted it unfolds that the joint custodians of jewel safe had, by oversight, left the key in the safe room itself.

The temporary peon of the branch who had noticed the availability of both the keys in one bunch and had been left behind in the safe room had managed to steal the jewel packets. Subsequently he had handed over the keys to the official stating that he had found the keys in the safe room.

There was no financial loss as the officials had made good the loss. Police complaint had been given and was registered under No.163/2008 dt.27.06.2008..

Mr. D. Sridhar

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
41	--	Mr. D. Sridhar	Srirangam	19.10

Brief History

We had received a lawyer notice from the advocate Sri. A.Senthamarai Kannan, Trichy on behalf of one Mr. V.Krishnakumar. In terms of the lawyer notice, it is informed that Mr. V.Krishnakumar of Trichy /Tamilnadu commenced depositing money in Lakshmi Vilas Bank (LVB), Thillainagar branch, Trichy and in the process Mr.V.Krishnakumar became friendly with one of the branch staff members by name Mr.D.Sridhar. On the advice of Mr.D.Sridhar it is alleged that Mr.V.Krishnakumar had redeposited the matured deposit proceeds through D.Sridhar in rural branches with an intention to avoid taxes. The claimant accordingly made deposits with Rajendram, Anbil and Tirukattupalli branches in Tamilnadu.It is claimed that Sri V.Krishnakumar used to handover matured deposit receipts to Mr.D.Sridhar and renewal of deposits was carried out accordingly. During the year 2005, it is alleged, the claimant deposited a sum of Rs.15.00 lakhs under 8 deposit receipts at Muthur branch in various names (reportedly of family members). It is informed that for the past 10 years Mr.D.Sridhar was reportedly receiving the original matured deposit receipts and handing over the fresh renewed deposit receipts back to the applicant. During November 2007, original deposit receipts were reportedly handed over to Mr.D.Sridhar for renewal but he did not give back the renewed deposit receipts in spite of the applicant requesting Mr.D.Sridhar repeatedly. It is further reported that on 13.05.2005 the applicant had deposited a sum of Rs.4.10 lacs, which was deposited in the name of Mr.Mahesh son of the applicant and Mrs.Padmavathi (Wife) for Rs.2.05 lacs each. These deposits were reportedly given to Mr.D.Sridhar who was working in Srirangam branch for renewal without taking Xerox copies of the original deposits. Since Mr.D.Sridhar had passed away on 04.03.2008, the claimant could not get back the renewed deposit receipts so far. The claimant through the lawyer notice has requested to disburse the maturity value of deposit receipts mentioned above in addition to the Rs.2.05 lacs each deposited in the name of his son Mahesh and wife Padmavathi. An investigation was conducted in the above matter. It is reported that on verification of the fixed deposit receipt, concerned deposit books, cash vouchers, clearing registers etc., there were no records available for any of the deposits shown above as having been issued by the Muthur branch. On the said date of issue of deposits no consideration of any kind in any mode was received by the branch from anyone including that of the claimant. The printed number of the deposit receipts as seen from the Xerox copies enclosed with the lawyer notice, when checked up with the branch records, did not tally with the stocks received/inventories maintained. Therefore, the deposit receipts shown above, though reportedly issued by our Muthur branch, in fact were not issued by the branch nor the deposit receipts really belonged to the stock of the security items of the branch. On verifying the records at our Srirangam branch where Mr.Sridhar was working a few years before his death, it was found that the deposit receipts with the numbers found on them belonged to the Stock/inventory of security items of term deposit receipts of the branch. These deposit receipts had not been issued by the branch to any applicant towards consideration of any money received. The branch had no records as to how these deposit receipts are not available in records in the branch. On further probing into the matter, it came to light that these deposit receipts from three books were torn off/stolen from the deposit receipt books which had not been checked and found out by the branch officials till such time the lawyer notice came. It is concluded, based on the observations narrated above, that the deposit receipts were not issued by our Muthur Branch.

Mr.J.Pavan Kasi Babu, a probationary officer, who had joined the bank during August 2008 had transferred funds from the existing savings bank accounts of customers and from income heads by misusing the passwords of the authorized officers as also misusing the teller ids of other clerical staff. Mr.J.Pavan Kasi Babu had got such amounts credited to his SB account and another account opened in the name of Kumar Raja, an associate of him, but not a staff member. Meanwhile, the branch had investigated the matter in respect of all the transactions of his account and his associate as also transactions emanated through his user id, in order to arrive at the exact amount of misappropriation. Mr. K.Senthil Kannan

43	Police case	Mr. K.Senthil Kannan	Bangalore Main	2.83

Brief History

An official by name Mr. K.Senthil Kannan who had resigned and relieved from the bank had carried out the following transactions under his password/misusing others passwords while in service.

Zero balance SB account was opened in the name of Mr.N.S.Kumar on 22.12.2007 by misusing the passwords of teller and officer. A cheque book was issued by the official for this account.

On 29.12.2007 one dummy outstation cheque for collection (OBC) was booked to the credit of this account for Rs 2.85 lacs. Since it was only a bogus OBC transaction, the official had debited OBC parking GL (intermediary account) and credited the SB account of Sri N.S.Kumar as if the realization was through. The money was withdrawn by using one of the cheque leaves out of the cheque book issued. This OBC parking G/L was squared off by debiting sundries ICC clearing account. The sundries ICC clearing account has transactions on a day today basis for booking clearing cheques and generally reflects balance on a continuous basis. While balancing this book of account for purposes of tallying the fraud came to light.

The vouchers used for the transactions, opening form of the SB account, the cheque by which the cash was paid etc are missing in the branch.

On investigation, it was found out that Sri.Senthil Kannan had perpetrated the malafide transaction with the sole intention of pecuniary gains.

A police complaint is being lodged. The insurance claim is already lodged.

Mr. D.Ganesh Sankar

S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
-------	------------------------------	-------------------	--------	---------------------------

44	Police case	Mr. D.Ganesh Sankar	Shevapet, Salem	25.98
Brief History
Sri.D.Ganesh Sankar, Clerk, has been working in our Shevapet branch from 02.05.2006. He was handling the deposits department and also worked as cashier, on rotation. As the staff of the branch, he used to deal with customers, their deposit withdrawals and also used to receive and make payments to the customers. On 11.11.2008 branch has received a cheque for payment in clearing in the SB account of a customer and the ledger balance was found short. Therefore the branch has contacted the customer to remit funds so that the cheque could be honoured. Subsequently on verifying the passbook of the customer, it was seen that there was sufficient balance in the account and apparently the balance in the passbook and the account in the system did not match. It was noticed that the entries after 27.12.2007 in the passbook were made in handwriting by the above staff, though the practice in the branch was to print the transaction in the Passbook. On comparison of the Passbook with the account in the system, it was found that the certain withdrawals/debits carried out in the account had not been entered in the Passbook. It was noticed that the actual balance in the account was only Rs 70,655.25 as there were various funds transfer made from the account. On investigation it was found that the funds transfers were made from this account to the account of Sri.Ganesh Sankar and his joint account with Mrs.Lakshmi Priya, his wife and his account with other branches. All these transactions were posted in the account by Sri.Ganesh Shankar himself. Sri.D.Ganesh Shankar was questioned about the transactions made by him in the customers accounts and he had admitted having fraudulently transferred the amounts to his joint account with his wife. He had also admitted having utilized the amounts so defrauded to purchase shares, futures etc through various share brokers with whom he was having accounts in his name as well as that of his family members. He has also admitted having fraudulently transferred amounts from two other accounts. Based on the investigation carried out, it is found out that an amount of Rs 25,97,797.73 was defrauded by the staff concerned. It is obvious that the fraud has been committed because of negligence of the supervisory staff/Manager. The bogus transactions have been authorized in the password of the officers/s either inadvertently by them or because password secrecy was not taken care of. Passbooks were allowed to be updated manually though the provision was available for machine printing. The police complaint was lodged and was registered under FIR 59/2008 dt.14.11.2008 and investigation is not yet over. The insurance claim has been lodged.

However at the end of the day while closing the cash, the cashier had found out that the officer had debited the cheque for Rs.40,000/- instead of Rs.20,000/- and therefore he had manipulated his cash transaction book total as if he had paid cash of Rs.40,000/-. In the process, he had pocketed Rs.20,000/-. The branch came to know this fraudulent incident subsequently and when the cashier was interrogated, he had admitted having taken away Rs.20,000/- cash. S.No.	Suit details, Date of filing	Name of the party	Branch	Amount claimed Rs.in Lakh
47	Police case	Shri.Sanjay Kumar & 8 others	Selaiyur	350.80
Brief History
This a case of loans disbursed against jewels. The gist of the case is furnished against S.No.9A. It was observed by the bank, that the manner in which the loans were availed was improper; but does not indicate illegal gratification or intention to default payment. Hence, the bank held that this transaction does not attract provisions of the circular of RBI on fraudulent transactions. However, in view of the procedural lapses, the bank had chosen to treat the loan as NPA as sub standard asset. On 19.01.2009, our DGM , Zonal Office, Chennai has visited Selaiyur branch. He has noticed considerable increase in JDL advance in the branch. On his random checkup of the jewels pledged, the loans were extended against the pledge of one kind of jewel only and the jewels weight were found to be overstated resulting in inadequate margin to cover the loans. The parties involved are Shri.Sanjay Kumar, Mrs.Anitha Sanjay, Mrs.Baveribai, Mrs.Manju, Sri.Sampath Raj, Sri.Govardhan, Sri. Sivaraj, Sri. Jayapal and Sri.Varadaman Jain. It is informed that the proceeds were partly used for working capital requirements and balance was utilized for investments in real estate. The borrowers instead of approaching the bank for purchasing the landed properties had raised the requisite amount through jewel loan. The manager being the first time manager, was under the impression that the entire jewel loan transactions were within the delegated powers, which in fact was not. Having come to know of loans sanctioned in excess to the delegated powers of the manger, the divisional head visited the branch to ascertain the details of the loan. It was found that though the quality of jewels was good, the margin obtained was inadequate. The borrowers were informed of the need to improve the security base or close the loan. The borrowers accepted that the manner of raising the loan was not proper when the same was explained to them. They requested to sanction the loan in accordance with the utilization of the loan proceeds. Even without waiting for the bank's acceptance of the request, they submitted the documents related to the properties purchased. On the advice of the bank, they also agreed to close the entire jewel loan by the sale of the jewels and also remitting cash over and above the sales proceeds. On an observation of their remittances in the jewel loan, the bank had considered to sanction a secured overdraft, against the property purchased from the jewel loan proceeds so that the end use of the loan was for the purpose for which it was lent. Against the property value of Rs.2.50 crores the bank had sanctioned an amount ofRs.1.05 crores. The proceeds of the loan were credited to the jewel loan account. Balance under other JDL are fully recovered. The present outstanding amount is Rs.105.50 lacs under the OD account.

A person, being a nominee, becoming entitled to the Equity Shares by reason of the death of the original Equity Shareholder(s), shall be entitled to the same advantages to which he would be entitled if he were the registered holder of the Equity Shares. Where the nominee is a minor, the Eligible Equity Shareholder(s) may also make a nomination to appoint, in the prescribed manner, any person to become entitled to the Equity Share(s), in the event of death of the said holder, during the minority of the nominee. A nomination shall stand rescinded upon the sale of the Equity Share by the person nominating. A transferee will be entitled to make a fresh nomination in the manner prescribed. Option to receive Equity Shares in Dematerialized Form

Applicants have the option to hold the equity shares in electronic form under the depository system. The Bank has signed an agreement with National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) on December 14, 2000 and with Central Depository Services (India) Ltd. (CDSL) on December 20, 2000 which enables an investor to hold and trade in securities in a dematerialized (electronic/demat) form (bearing ISIN number INE694C01018), instead of holding equity shares in the form of physical certificates. Equity shares being offered through this Rights Issue will be admitted to NSDL and CDSL, when allotted. Applicants may note that they have the option to subscribe to the Rights Equity Shares in demat or physical form, or partly in demat and physical form, in the same application, in the space provided. NO separate applications for demat and physical shares are to be made. If such application is made, the applications for physical shares will be treated as multiple applications and rejected accordingly. In case of partial allotment, allotment will be first done in demat form, and the balance, if any, will be allotted in physical form. The equity shares of the Bank have been included in the Compulsory Demat list with effect from 29/01/2001 as per SEBI directives for all classes of investors. Hence, investors may note that the equity shares of the Bank can be traded on the stock exchanges only in demat form.

The procedure for opting for this facility for allotment of equity shares arising out of this Issue in electronic form is as under:

1. Open a Beneficiary Account with any Depository Participant (care should be taken that the Beneficiary Account should carry the name of the holder in the same manner as is exhibited in the records of the Bank. In case of joint holding, the Beneficiary Account should be opened carrying the names of the holders in the same order and style as are appearing in the records of the Bank). In case of Investors having various folios in the Bank with different joint holders, the investors will have to open separate beneficiary accounts for such holdings. This step need not be adhered to by those shareholders who have already opened such Beneficiary Account(s).
2. For shareholders holding shares in dematerialised form as on the Record Date, the beneficial account number shall be printed on the CAF. For those who open accounts later or those who change their accounts and wish to receive their Rights equity shares by way of credit to such account the necessary details of their beneficiary account should be filled in the space provided in the CAF. It may be noted that the allotment of equity shares arising out of this Issue can be received in demat form even if the original equity shares of the Bank are not dematerialised. Nonetheless, it should be ensured that the Depository Account is in the name(s) of the shareholders and the names are in the same order and style as are appearing in the records of the Bank.
3. Responsibility for correctness of applicant's age and other details given in the CAF vis-a-vis those with the applicant's Depository Participant would rest with the applicant. Applicants should ensure that the names of the applicants and the order in which they appear in CAF should be same as registered with the applicant's Depository Participant.
4. If incomplete/incorrect Beneficiary Account details are given in the CAF or where the investor does not opt to receive the Rights equity shares in demat form, the Bank will issue equity shares in the form of physical certificate(s).
5. The Rights equity shares allotted to investors opting for demat form, would be directly credited to the Beneficiary Account as given in the CAF after verification. Allotment advice, refund order (if any) would be sent directly to the applicant by the Registrars to the Issue but the confirmation of the credit of the Rights equity shares to the applicant's Depository Account will be provided to the applicant by the applicant's Depository Participant.
6. Renounees can also exercise this option to receive equity shares in the demat form by indicating in the relevant block and providing the necessary details about their Beneficiary Account.

NOTE: Shareholders/applicants are advised to apply for receiving the new equity shares that may be allotted to them in the demat form only, since trading in the equity shares of the Bank is permissible only in the demat form.
